Bridges to New Horizons

Traveling the road of life we encounter many bridges spanning valleys of dangers, temptations, and meaningless causes — bridges which require careful and precise judgement to cross.

Some people encounter these bridges and see the crossing of them as hopeless and meaningless and they become stranded on the road of life. For those who cross these bridges there are great rewards of self reliance, self confidence, new knowledge, and most of all a pride in having faced the dangers, the decisions, and the hard work. Rewards are also found in new hopes, new goals, new ideas, new friends, and new horizons in life which hold countless opportunities for happiness.

Education provides us with vital knowledge which in turn gives us the curiosity to spark our burning thirst for new beginnings.

This yearbook contains pictures and words capturing the memories of people and times which have helped many cross the bridge of high school to travel on down the road of life.

School Board Duties Are Explained

The responsibilities of the Board of Education of Kennett Public Schools are many and varied. Board members serve as the elected government of a school system by maintaining supervisory control over all school policies and by managing school property such as renovations, the construction of new buildings, etc. They also regulate all fiscal expenditures and approve changes in the curriculum.

New programs initiated by the board this year included a deaf education class; a class for the orthopedically handicapped; a special education cooperative diagnostic center in which other school districts in the county are participating; and a Title IV-B program providing an accelerated Junior High language arts program with special emphasis in the areas of oral speaking and appreciation of literature and composition. YETP (Youth Employment Training), a new program financed by Federal Manpower, was also introduced.

DR. JOHN McMULLAN

Superintendent — Dr. John McMullan

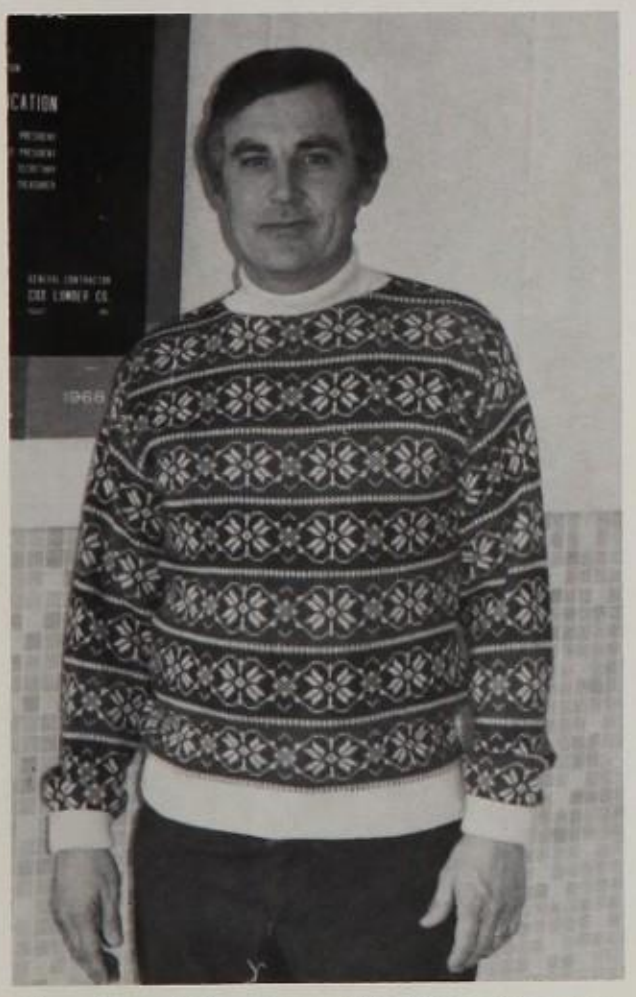
Principal — Mr. William McKeel

Supervisor, ESTA Funds — Mr. Carroll Eades



Vocational Director — Mr. Ralph Hemann

Assistant Principal — Mr. Terry Turlington

Special Services — Mr. Charles Hilburn

Ms. Price 16 Years as KHS Secretary

I don't know of anything I would rather do than be secretary at Kennett High School. It is not a montonous job. After my family and church I rank Kennett High School one of the most important things in my life. One couldn't spend 16 years as I have at one place and not feel a deep attachment to it. I enjoy being associated with the students and faculty and hope that I have made some worthwhile contribution to their lives.

MS. NORENE PRICE

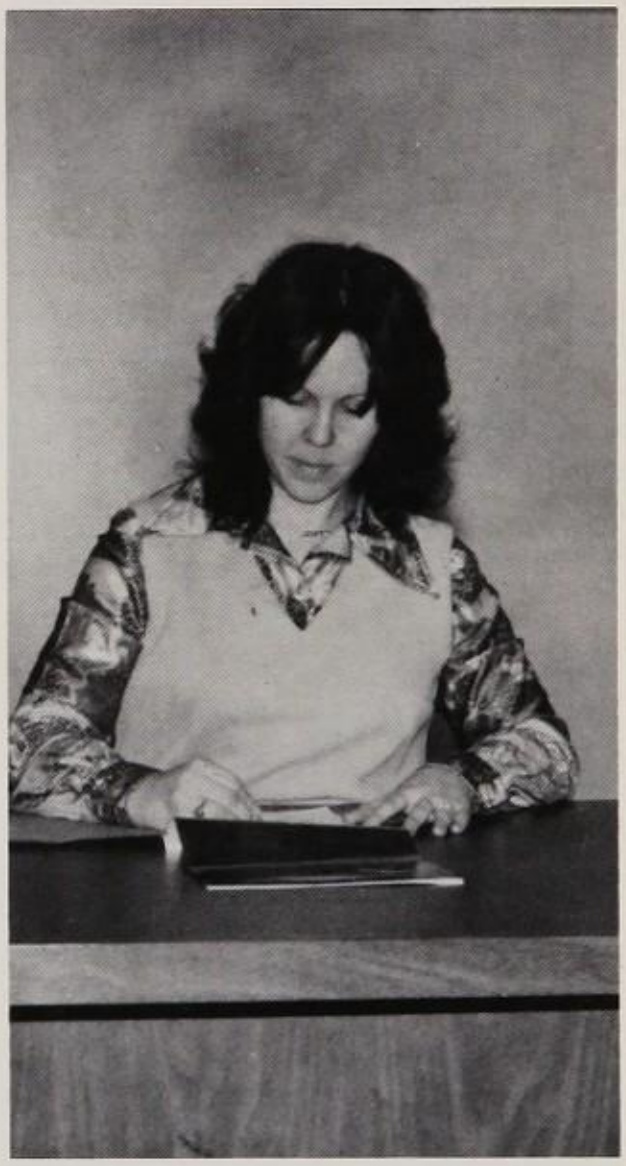
Receiving telephone messages is part of Ms. Norene Price's typical day as Secretary to the Principal.

Freshman-Sophomore counselor, Ms. Doris Ivie, gives freshman Doug Dye guidance in filling filling out a 4-year education plan.

As graduation nears, junior-senior counselor, Ms. Judith Crews' paper work reaches its peak.

Cheerfulness contributes to the success of Ms. Barbara Henson as Secretary to the Counselors.

Computer oriented financial reports make it possible for Ms. Norma Monroe, Secretary to the Superintendent, to coordinate the school system's monentary system.

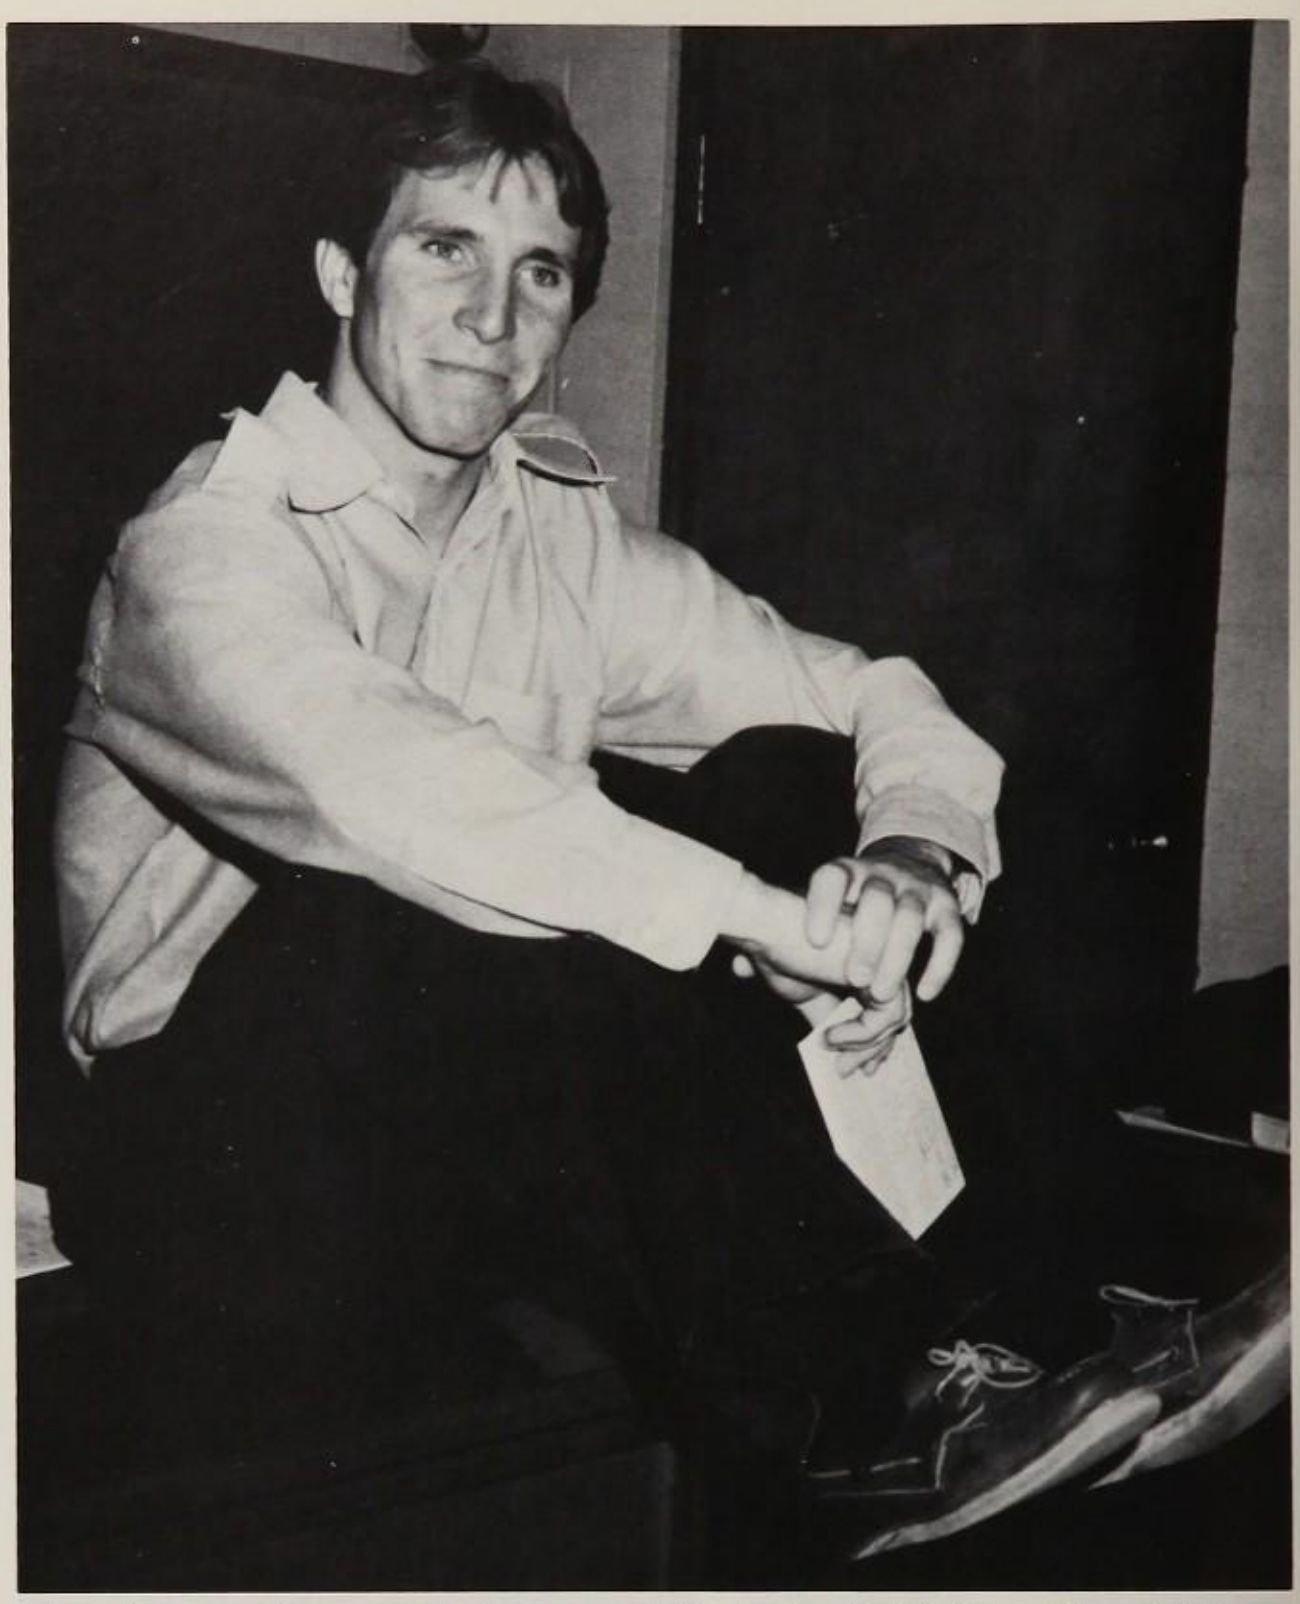


Uncluttered counter space provides a convenient spot for Ms. Donna Galloway, Vocational Secretary, to correct master copies.

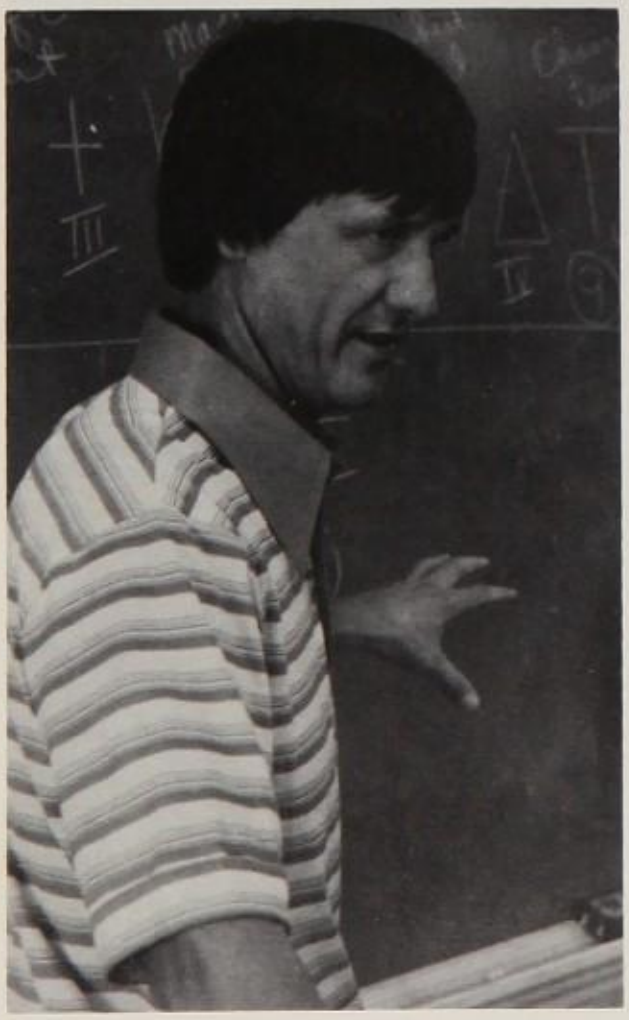
How Has KHS Changed?

The greatest change that I've noticed since I was a student at KHS is in the students themselves. In my opinion the ones I have been associated with are much more mature than when I attended school. I have been both amazed and pleased to see students begin to think deeper thoughts than just what to do on Saturday night. Also, the students are super friendly and helpful to me as a first year teacher, something I would never have done to me as a first year teacher, something I would never have done when I was in high school. In my opinion the teaching curriculum has remained relatively the same, which is good in a day and age when every week there is a new educational trend. However, the students seem to be maturing more and more and therefore getting more out of life, which I feel is great.

MR. WARD BILLINGS



Informal conversation proves to be a successful technique for Mr. Ward Billings in his psychology class.



Chemical equations seem to present a problem for Mr. William Wilkerson's general science students.

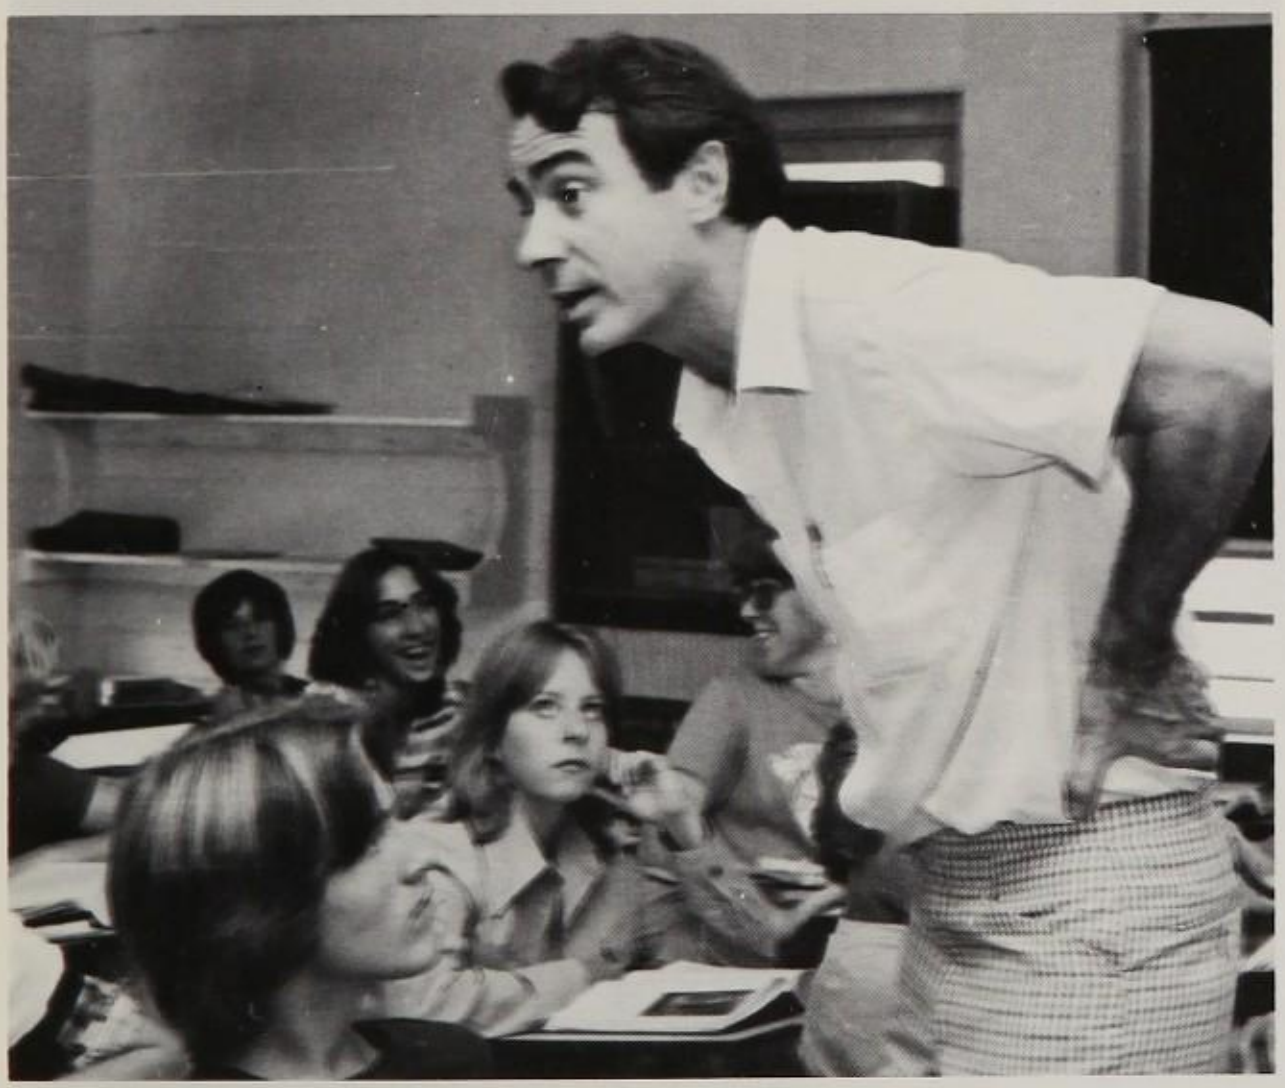
"It's been one of those days" exclaims Ms. Didi Derrick, girls' physical education teacher.



Silas Marner's miserly personality is discussed by English II instructor, Mr. Joe Newman.

Preparing students for their future, Ms. Mary Ray extends supervision to secretarial practice student Paula Simpson.

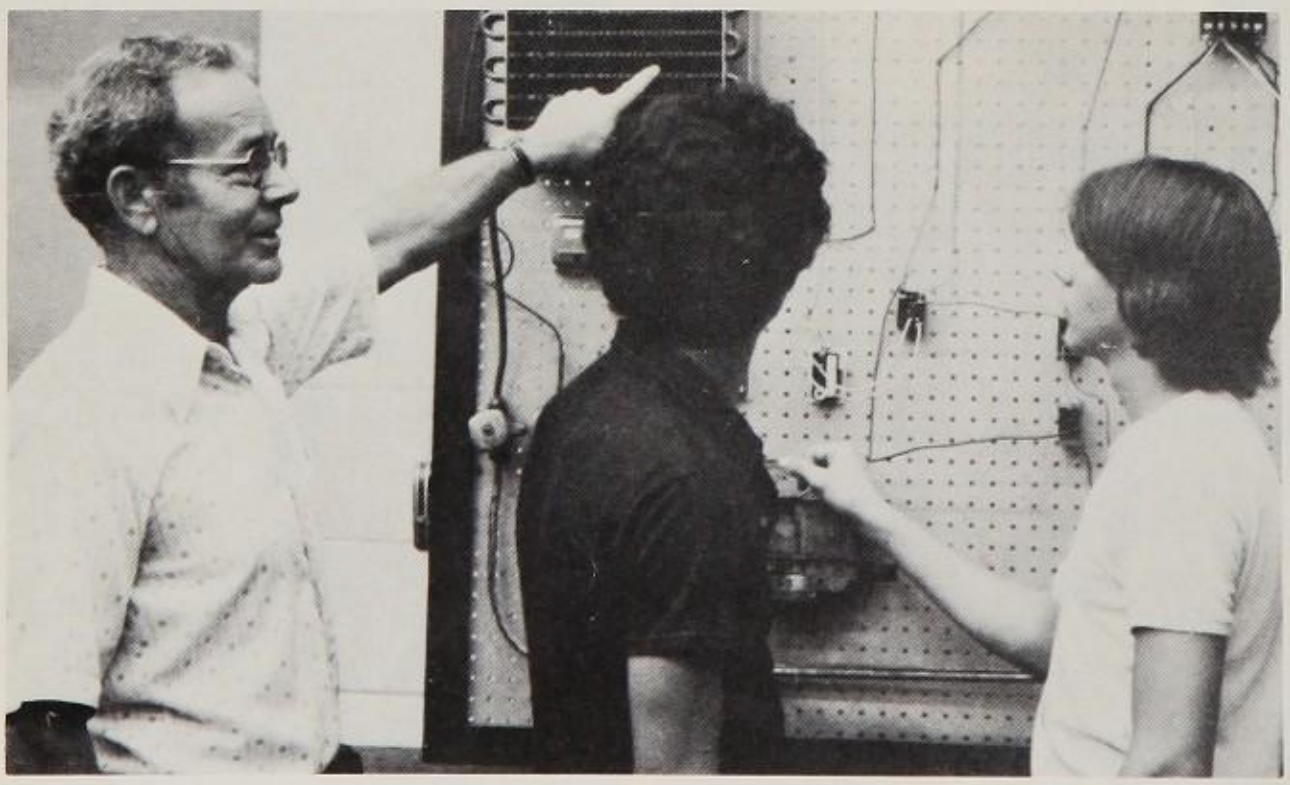
Nail Praises Band's Performances

I feel this year's marching band presented "polished" performances with more consistency than some groups in the past. This band faced severe pressure from the football schedule and reacted admirably.

A great deal of my satisfaction as band director is observing the growth of students musically. During senior performances, I always look back to the time when the students were at the beginning and junior high levels, and marvel at the vast improvement. I receive my greatest enjoyment from working with the senior high concert band and observing the members as they realize their potential in a concerted effort. I feel that experiences provided by the senior high band are comparable to those provided by chorus, drama, and athletics.

MR. DENNIS NAIL

Pop Concert music for rhythm guitar is explained by Mr. Dennis Nail as Kevin Fuller attempts a difficult passage.

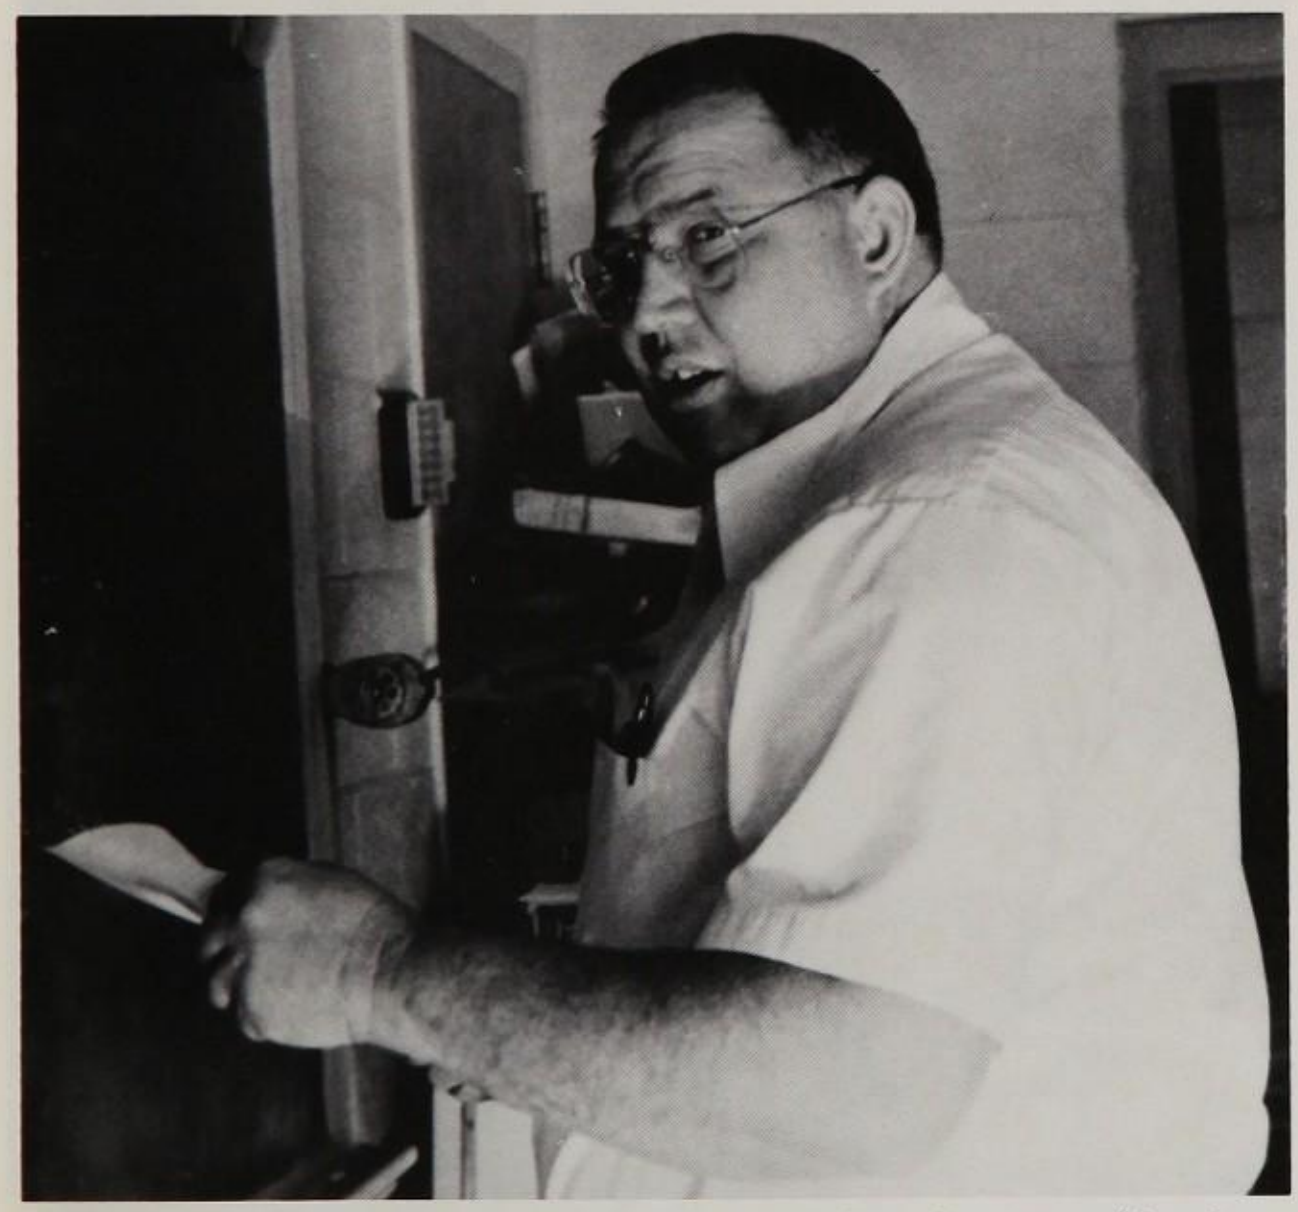


Explanation of a workable schematic diagram by Mr. Wendell Bristow enables L. Crawford and R. Smith to better understand an evaporation coil.

After roll call, Ms. Charlene Mitchell clarifies the instructions of an upcoming trigonometry test.

Teachers, as well as students, rely on study hall to catch up on various activities. Ms. Nancy Swindle schedules classroom projects during her 4th hour study hall period.

Ceramic articles are placed in the kiln by Mr. Tommy Allgood prior to the overnight firing process.



Distracted from his American History notes, Mr. James Burns directs a scathing glance toward a classroom disturbance.

Classroom antics during the four-minute interval between classes arouse Ms. Wanda McAnally's sense of humor.

Advanced Wood-working Added to Curriculum

Working in general woods and metals is enjoyable for me because in most cases students are interested in learning about something new. At the same time I enjoy advanced woodworking. It opens new doorways to students who are interested in advancing into the unknown. Some changes need to be made, but the class is going well. Students in this class get a chance to use their experience from general woods.

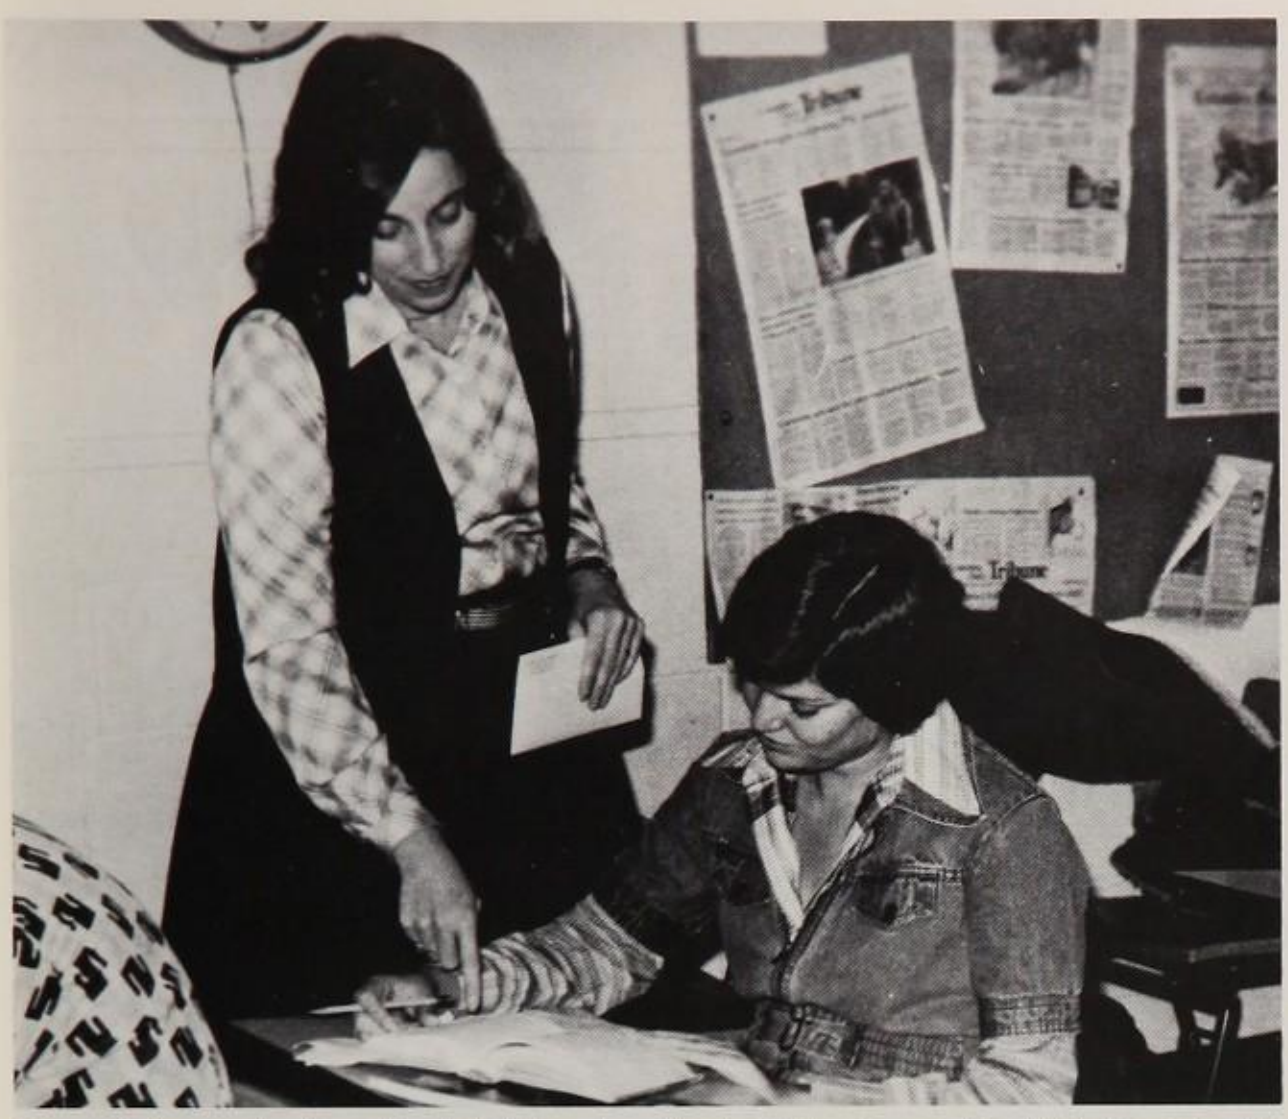
I enjoy having students come back after they have graduated and tell me how much they are using what they learned in my class. This is the most rewarding experience I have had at K.H.S.

MR. DOUG IRVIN

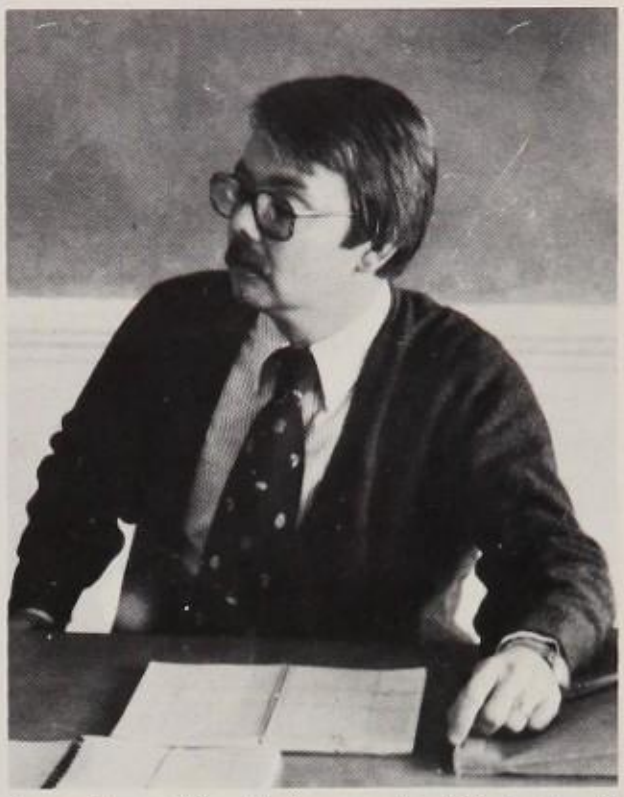
Mechanization in metal working is employed by Mr. Doug Irvin as he grinds metal rods to a desired length.

Before yearbook triplicates are sent to the publisher, they are approved by sponsor, Ms. Helen Wall.

Paper work is one of Ms. Patty Doherty's desk-oriented duties as a home economics teacher.



Personal instruction from English III teacher Ms. Jean Mower provides Kelly Tippen with the basic knowledge for diagraming sentences.



Excessive talking before an English test will often result in a grade cut from Mr. Bill Gish.

As she waits for her next student, speech therapist Ms. Betty Fairris plans future lessons.

Instruction in the use of a microwave oven is given to Home Making II student Lisa Doherty by Ms. Helen Carter.

What Is Special Education?

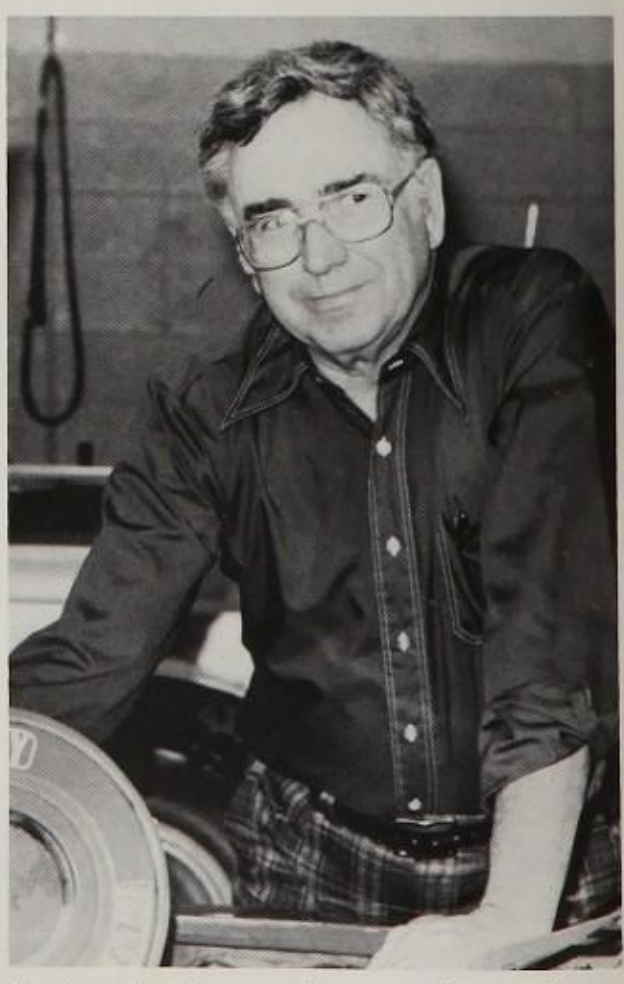
In the special curriculum class we try to lead the pupil to form specific habits which will serve him throughout his life. Among these are habits of punctuality, regular attendance, responsibility, fairness, personal hygiene, self-control, and truthfulness.

Academic subjects center on the pupil's everyday life situations. They aim to provide a sound scholastic base in keeping with the students' ability to familiarize him with his environment, and increase his social confidence. To accomplish this aim, the body of common knowledge which special class pupils must gain is reduced to essentials. Behavior is taught through habit, and acceptable attitudes are cultivated through training.

MS. FONDA STARK

Various projects in Ms. Fonda Stark's special education class provide her students with a break from the regular classroom activities.

Colorful answers from freshman general science classes bring a smile to Mr. Kenneth Garland's face.



Design of rotary engines provides an interesting topic for discussion in Mr. Joe Marshall's auto mechanics class.

Distributive education teacher Ms. Donna Winston provides leadership during a regular meeting of DECA.

Practice sets are a help to students in Ms. Claudette Wilder's basic business class as they learn to fill out income tax forms.

Spring cleaning provides librarian Ms. Cornelia Barnett with the opportunity to return books to their proper places.

Painting techniques used in auto body are demonstrated by instructor Mr. Harold Edwards.

Enrollment Doubles in Business Ed.

Enrollment in the Secretarial and Clerical Practice classes doubled in the 1978-79 school year. Equipment in the Business and Office Education Department is modern, up-to-date, and is comparable to that used in business offices.

By the use of an office simulation project, Clerical Practice students are made aware of the importance of working together as a team to provide a smooth flow of work. The students must make decisions, establish priorities of work, and at the same time establish good interpersonal relations with their fellow workers.

MS. JOAN CUNNINGHAM

Textbook reference enables Ms. Joan Cunningham to correct errors in typing problems.

Selection of the proper lighting is crucial to Mr. Mike Crum in preparation for the fall production.

Medical Science instructor, Ms. Pat Fisher, compiles hospital employment records.

What, why, when, how, where, and who are the questions Ms. Patt Sharp stresses in journalistic writing.

Before Graphic Arts class prints the Tatler, it must undergo a final inspection by Mr. Palmer Pelham.

Specific drafting skills are explained by Mr. Dan Carlisle, as Steve Coffer works on his assignment.

Visual aides assist electronics teacher Mr. William Tabot in explaining transistors.

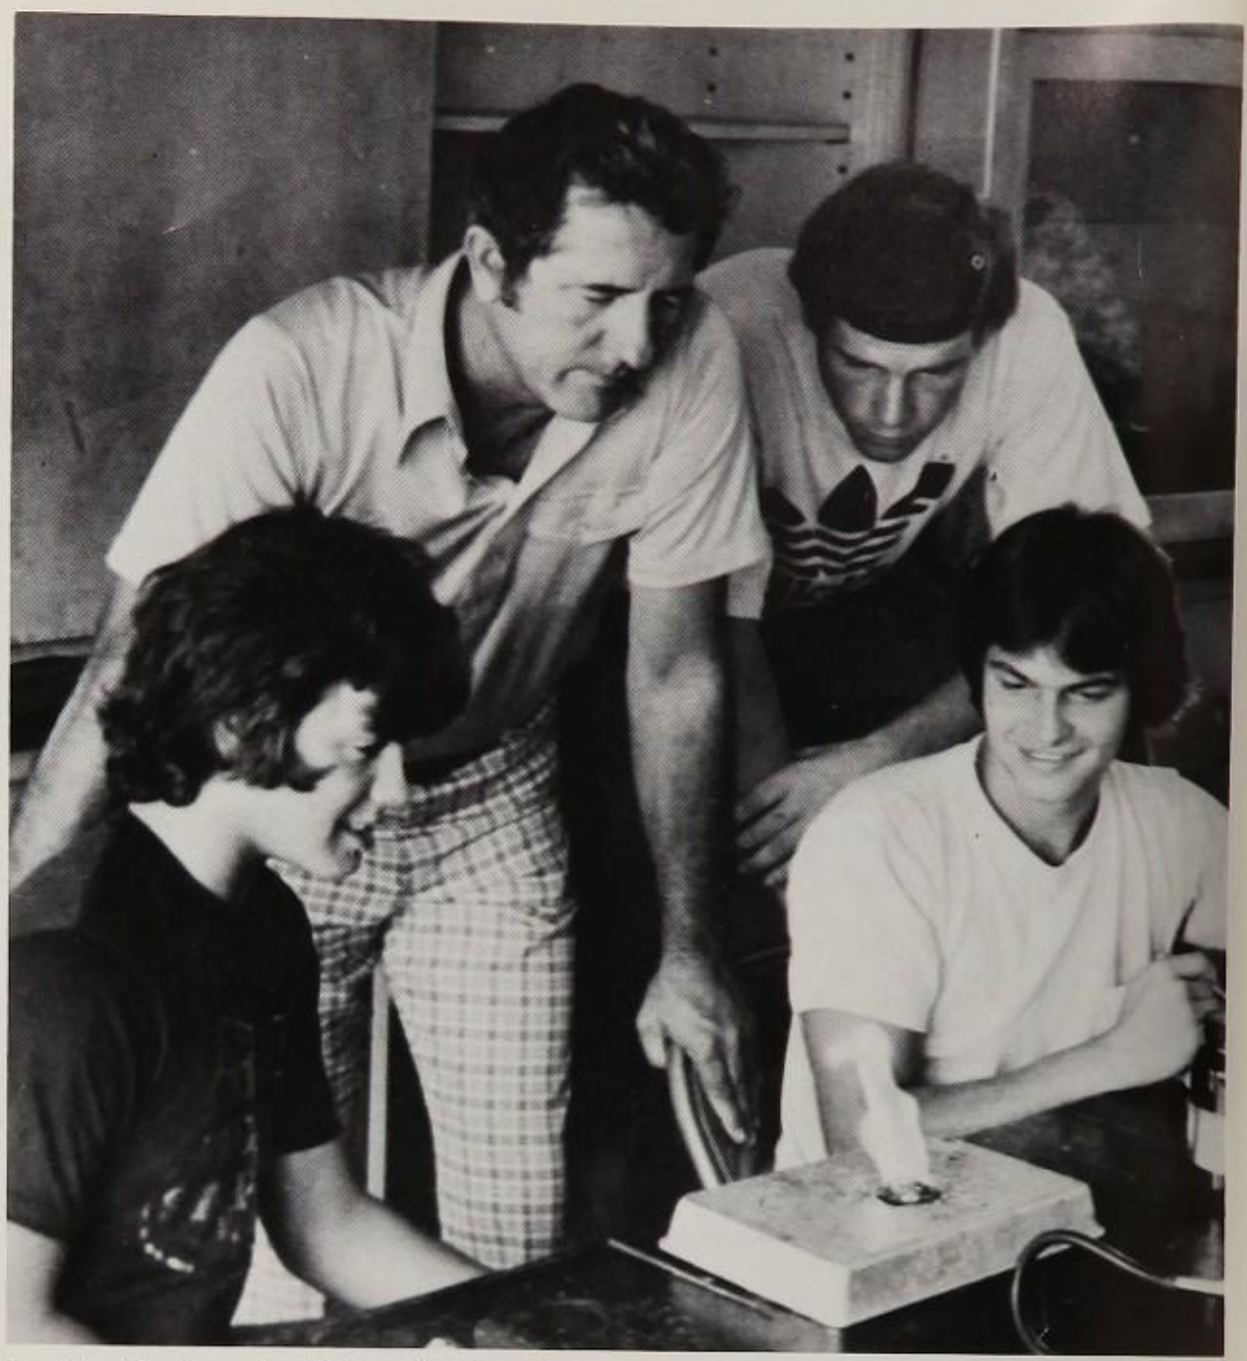
Fender Expresses Views

Well rounded people must have some knowledge of biology. It is the study of life, not just human life, but all life on the earth, and the relationship between living things.

Today's students are different from those in the past, but not as much as one might think. They are a little less sincere, but they simply reflect the society in which they live.

When I see former students living useful lives, I feel that in some small way I contributed to their success and to society as a whole.

MR. DOUGLAS FENDER



Involved in the scientific study of oxidation, Mr. Douglas Fender directs an experiment involving spontaneous combustion.

With a full day of physical education classes, Coach Don Tomlinson plans physical fitness programs for students.

Concentration is shown on the face of head football coach Kent Miller as he prepares to discuss the plays for an upcoming game.

Audio recording of the Pop Concert is controlled by Mr. James Finch as the Senior High Band gives its annual performance.

History teacher, Mr. Jerry Redwine, listens intently to a panel discussion by his students about the Greek and Roman civilization, his favorite subject for history.

First year building trades instructor, Mr. James Stacy, reflects approval after inspecting the exterior of the house built by his classes.

Civics teacher, Mr. Nelson McCullough gives individual help to Freshman, Sammy Pullium, for better understanding of citizenship.

Future Breakfast Program Is Possible

Although my experience as a lunchroom supervisor has been short, I have a feeling of satisfaction in coping with the responsibilities involved with the lunch program. The food service personnel at each school deserves a great portion of the credit for a successful lunch program.

I think a breakfast program may be possible in future years for our schools. It would be similar to the lunch program's nutritional standards. Although small in comparison to the lunch program, the breakfast program is gaining momentum in the state and would be a great asset to out school.

Britt James Provides Entertainment at Homecoming for 2nd Consecutive Year

Brilliant autumn skies enhanced the opening of 1978 Homecoming activities at K.H.S. The traditional Friday afternoon assembly and parade culminated at the court house with introduction of royalty and crowning of Queen Julie Striegel.

Good weather prevailed into the weekend, helping create a festive atmosphere for Saturday's activities. The football team further contributed to the crowd's high spirits with an exciting 9-7 win, and the combined efforts of Senior High, Freshman, and Junior High Marching Indians entertained fans at half time with a tribute to America's armed services, a "first" at K.H.S.

Later that evening, students and their dates became guests of pep club members in a "Disco Inferno" which echoed with Britt James' non-stop music.

Downtown assemblies help to involve the community in high school activities. Here, Sr. Dale Madle crowns Queen Julie Striegel on the courthouse steps.

Chosen to set off the pep club's disco theme, disc jockey Britt James creates an appropriate atmosphere.

Tradition is broken as Sr. K Club member Fran Dalton becomes the first female selected to drive the queen's car.

"Where did he leave our tickets?" wonders Jr. Vickie Parish as her date hastily rummages through his billford.

Radio personality Sr. David Wheeler presents the royalty.

Amused by one of Jeff Lack's pranks, Sheryl Crow dissolves into laughter.

Modern dance provides students with an opportunity for self-expression, ably depicted by Soph. Judy Seaber as she lopes across the dance floor.

Fall Play Is Based on Historical Fact

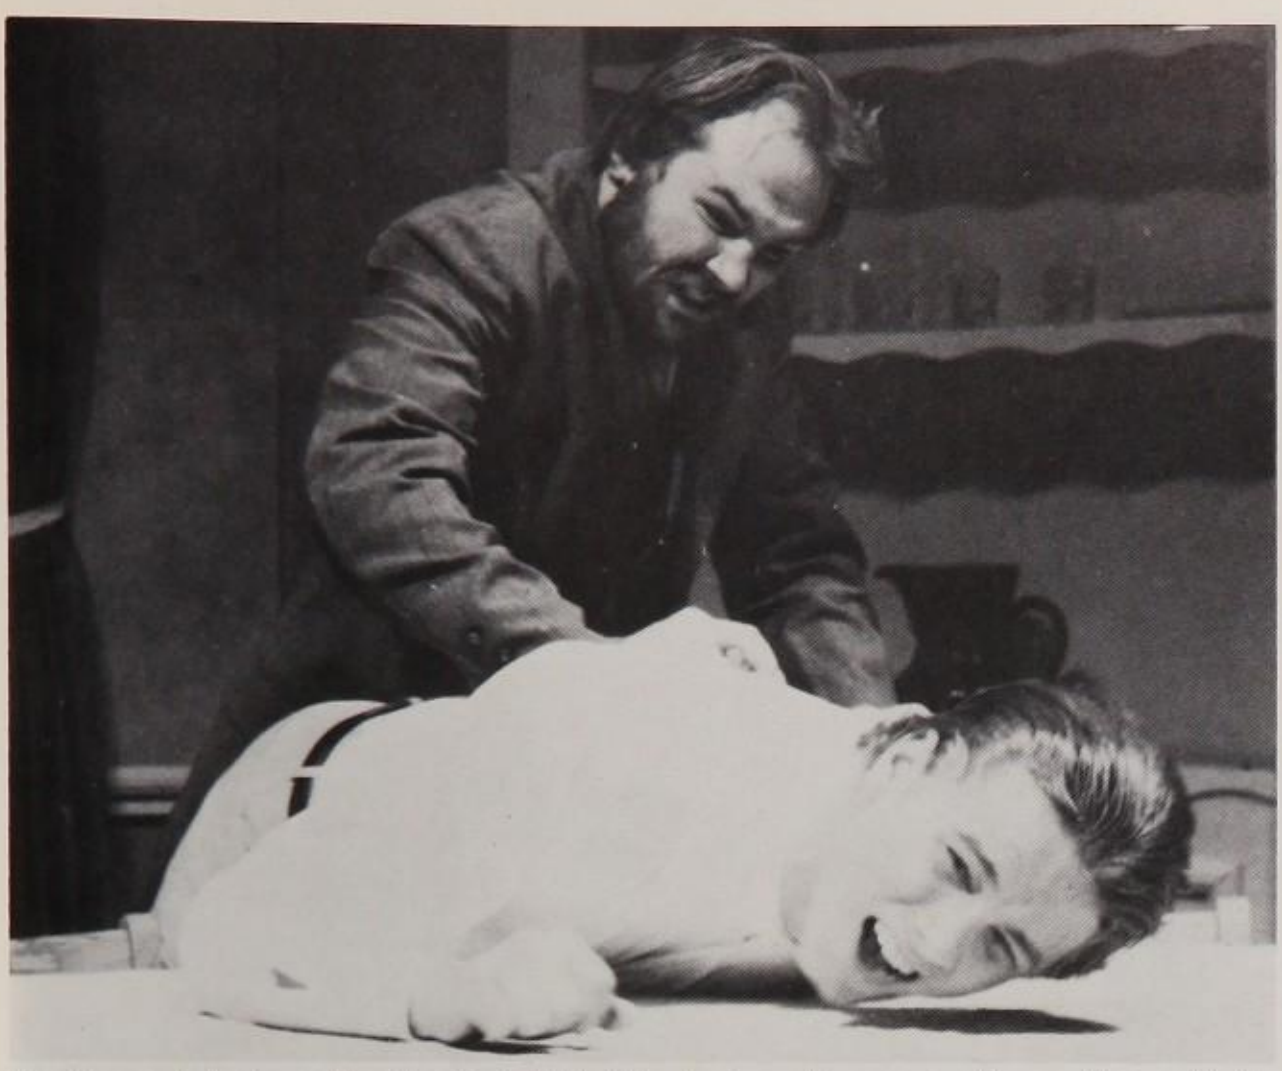
After weeks of practice, William Gibson's The Miracle Worker was presented under the direction of Mr. Mike Crum. The play was based on Annie Sullivan's teaching of Helen Keller, a deaf, mute, and blind girl. Annie, previously blind, was a teacher from Perkins Institute for the Blind in Boston.

Much of the play's effectiveness depends on staging techniques. This was accomplished through the utilization of lighting, used to accompany changes of mood, and offstage voices that recalled haunting events from the past.

The Miracle Worker deals with the importance of language to humanity. In the words of Annie Sullivan, "language is to the mind what light is to the eye." Miss Sullivan has the title role because the teaching of Helen Keller is indeed a miracle. Without love and affection, Annie's obstinacy could have broken Helen's spirit and perhaps rendered her fearful and incapable of learning at all. Throughout the play the symbolism of keys is used to stress the theme of the unlocking of the human mind and the pledge of trust.

Disturbed by the terrifying news of Helen's (Danny Canady) illness, Capt. Keller (David Wheeler) and Kate (Katie Borchers) watch over their young daughter.

Under the pressure of confinement and long lessons, Helen frequently becomes discouraged and shows anger toward her teacher (Pam Simpson).



Tension and strain, evident in Capt. Keller's behavior, often erupted in conflicts with his son James (Bruce Hill).

Upon her arrival at Ivy Green, Annie is promptly locked into her room by Helen. Capt. Keller rescues her to the amusement of the household.

Taking notes from director Mike Crum and keeping blocking charts are only part of the duties of Rehearsal Secretary Kim Waddell.

Unaware that she is causing them harm, Helen often attacks her playmates.

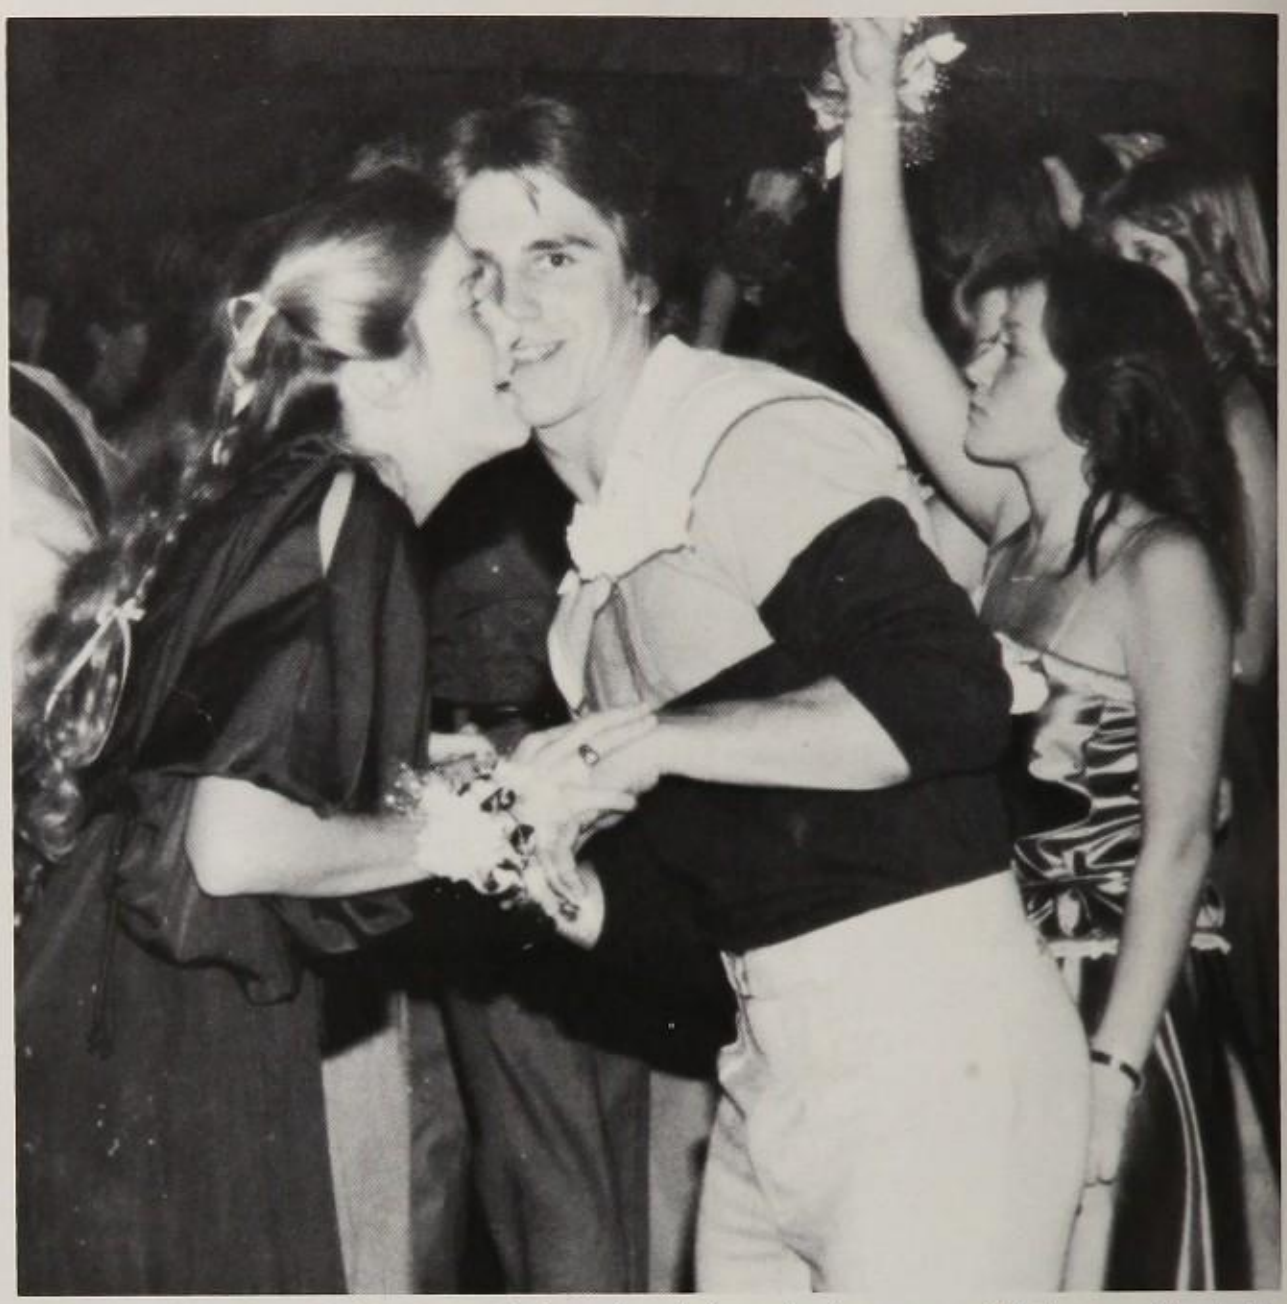
Patience and determination are required from Annie Sullivan as she attempts to teach Helen sign language.

Old-Fashioned Christmas Theme Is Chosen

Borrowing from the past, K.H.S. seniors ornamented the walls of the American Legion Building with "old-fashioned" Christmas decor. A fireplace, Christmas tree, and rocking chair served as the perfect picture background. Small poinsetta arrangements decorated the tables, while candy canes adorned the walls.

The sounds of Montage accompanied the dancers, while there were lots of punch and cookies for those who preferred to sit. The traditional climax of the night came when Srs. Charlotte Lipsey and Gary Ruettgers were crowned as Indian Chief and Princess.

Montage's rendition of "Stairway to Heaven" propels Candy Cato and Joey Purcelli into a world of their own.



Dancers Jeff Lack and Julie Striegel take a break from the fast pace of "Montage" by holding a conversation on the dance floor.

Punch furnished by the senior class provides LuAnne Duckworth with a needed "lift."

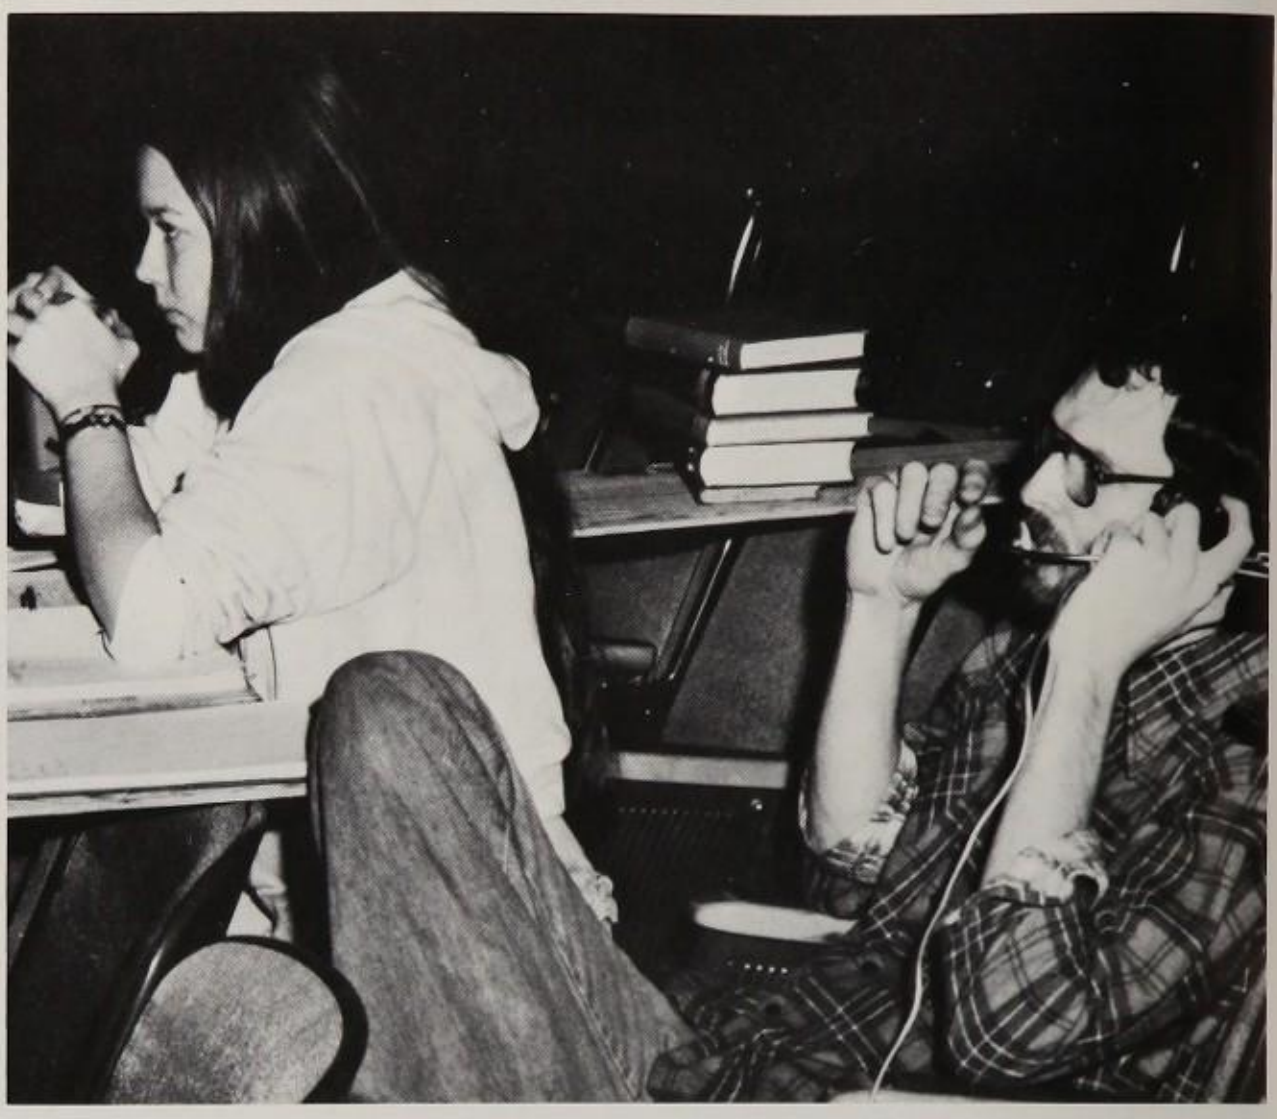
Fiddler On The Roof — Crews Make it Work

For four consecutive nights, the cast of Fiddler on the Roof delighted Kennett audiences with their performances. The cast, however, didn't do it alone — they had some very competent help from many students who never appeared on stage.

Under Mr. Michael Crum, the technical aspects included the scenic construction crew which built and painted every piece of scenery essential to the production and the shiftcrew which illuminated everyone's efforts. Other technical crews were the prop crew, which supplied and shifted smaller items which were also very essential, and the wardrobe crew, which sorted, tagged, decided upon, and repaired the costumes the cast members wore. The rehearsal secretary, Pam Simpson, had the seemingly impossible task of keeping up with almost every aspect of the production. Under Mr. James Finch, the music team consisted of an accompanist, Sheryl Crow, a small instrument ensemble, and a music secretary, Kerri Cuff.

All of these students spent many hours working to perfect the final production, and everyone who participated in the play or saw and enjoyed it owes them thanks for making "Fiddler" possible.



Director Mike Crum delivers light readings into the headphones while Rehearsal Secretary P. Simpson checks the scene for correct blocking.

In order to perfect spotlight accuracy, Mr. Mike Crum spends many hours on the scaffold.

Camera distraction seems to attract the attention of music director Mr. James Finch as he attempts to cue accompanist Sheryl Crow.

Accurate lighting cues executed by M. Richardson, B. Masterson, and J. Lewis establish an authentic setting for each scene.

Essential to the bar room scene in the production were genuine Russian liquor bottles. Here, prop crew members T. West and D. Wyatt prepare them for the scene.

Assistant stage manager D. Hamlett reviews shift assignments between acts.

Last minute preparations are made by costume crew members D. Redman and J. Newman as they strive to perfect Tevye's (David Wheeler) Costume.

Fiddler Emphasizes Jewish Tradition

Fiddler on the Roof, a musical play which holds the record of "Broadway's longest running musical," was chosen by Director Mike Crum for the Spring production.

There was nothing glamorous about Fiddler on the Roof. Tevye, his shrewdish wife, his delightful daughters, and his fellow townsmen lived in a slovenly Jewish community in Russia in 1905. They dressed in rags, torn coats, and battered hats, and the men wore scraggley beards. They all lived in a worn-out community, Aneteuka.

Tevye is trying to cope with changing of the age-old laws of tradition. Conflicts emanate when his three oldest daughters flee from the old way of the father's selecting a husband for them and choose their own mates.

The title symbolizes the hazardous condition of life for Jews in the small village. Throughout the play, Tevye explains, "Without our traditions, our lives would be as shakey as a Fiddler On The Roof."

"Matchmaker, Matchmaker make me a match," sings Tevye's five hopeful daughters.

After careful thought regarding their relationship, Tevye (D. Wheeler) and his wife, Golde (L. Cohen) come to the conclusion that within the twenty-five years of their marriage they love each other.

Fiddler Joe Walker and Tevye celebrate with a spontaneous dance to Tevye's good fortune in having made a match for his eldest daughter.

Following Jewish tradition, Tevye's family sings the conventional Sabbath prayer.

"You can't close your eyes to what's happening in the world!" exclaims Perchik (D. Landrum), a revolutionary student from Kiev.

Russian dancers (D. Lynn, B. Burcham, and K. Bartmess) join the celebration of the engagement of Tzietel and Motel.

Motel (J. Farmer) determines his most miraculous gift of all is the gift of his future wife Tzietel (B. Hilburn).

"Looks Like We Made It" — Prom Theme

The road leading from the past to the present and into the future was used symbolically by the Junior class through scenic wall decorations and a centerpiece of a large bridge surrounded with plants.

The eventful occasion began at 8 o'clock on the evening of May 5. As the guests arrived, they were greeted at the door by Jrs. A. Hellman and D. Blocker where they received memory books. A disco type mood was set as the dancers boogied to the sounds of "Bandit." When the clock struck ten, the Prom royalty was presented by Master of Ceremonies B. Hill. Selected by the Senior class, Brenda Mungle was crowned Prom Queen by Jr. Class President J. Clevenger.

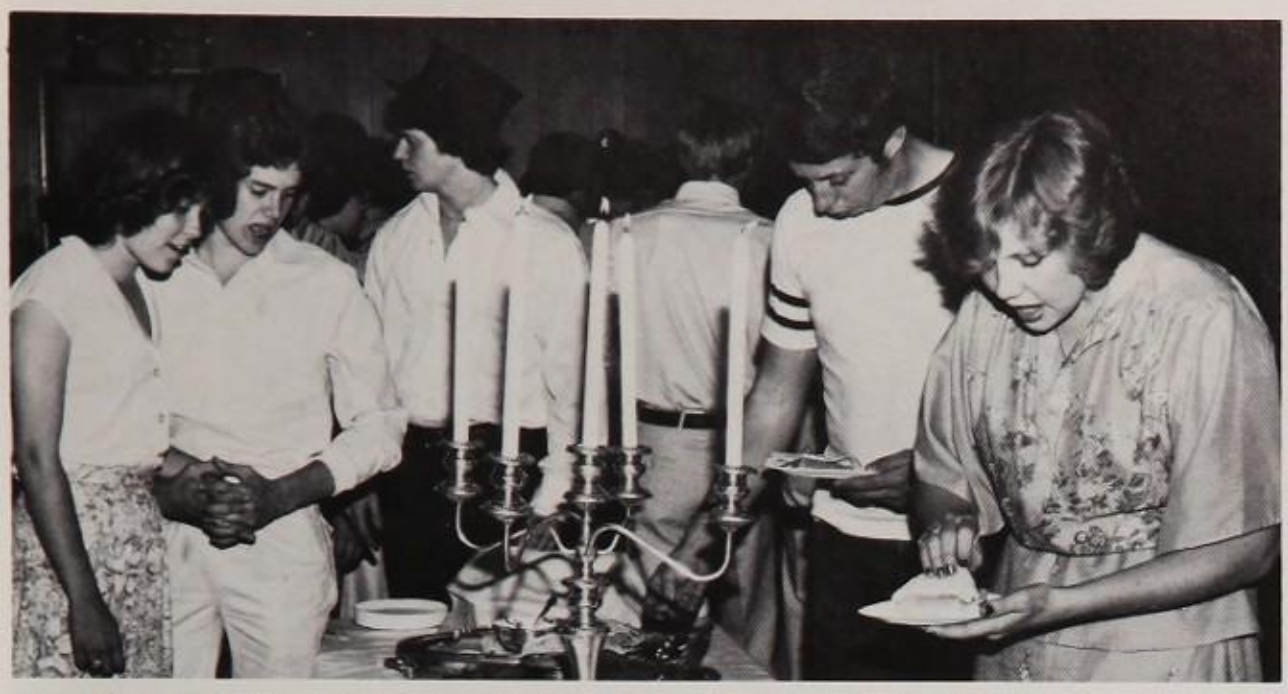
Following prom festivities, the traditional party at the Country Club was held. D.J. J. Wheeler spun records while the students continued dancing and enjoying refreshments furnished by the Seniors' parents.

The night concluded at the breakfast held at the Dalton's.

Sr. K. Rickman is entertained by D. Landrum as he impersonates Fred Astaire.

Still awed by the announcement that she is Queen, B. Mungle casts a glance at the camera.

Two-thirty finds F. Dalton, J. Walker, and L. Wilkerson taking a break from a night full o dancing.



One of the enjoyable after-Prom activities is the Country Club dance. Here, Prom guests A. Lipsey, J. Gamble, G. Nichols, and J. McDonald load up on some of the snacks provided.

Sr. Jackie Taylor whispers sweet nothings into the ear of Fr. Murless Jefferson.

As Prom time approaches, Juniors struggle to complete the decorations.

Met at the door by Junior hosts and hostesses, R. Jones and his date receive their Prom memory books.

Slow music and low lights provide a romantic atmosphere for L. Branum and T. Gramling.

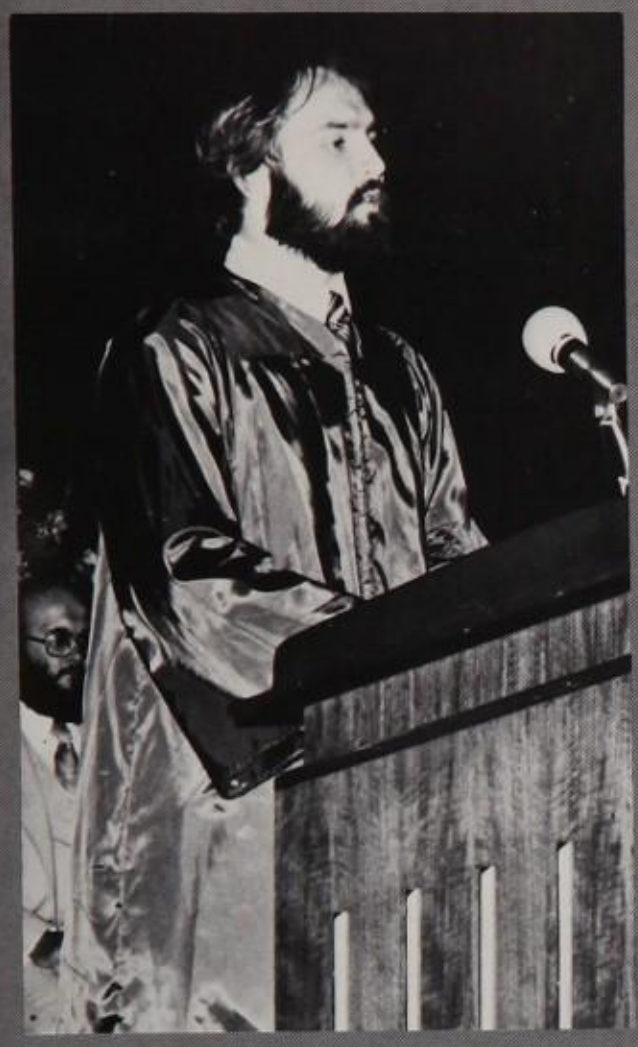
Class of 1979

Seniors Participate in Final Class Activities



Speaker D. Wheeler addresses the class on the importance of post-secondary education.

Graduate D. Carter embraces C. Seaber in a surge of emotion.

Prior to graduation, seniors participated in numerous activities including Baccalaureate Services with Reverend Seaber giving the address and Senior Banquet, held at the Country Club. Chosen by the seniors, K. Bartmess, L. Cohen, B. Karaway, and D. Wheeler addressed the class at commencement exercises held on May 24. Their speeches reflected the class's own mixed feelings, including reflections on the past, gratitude to parents, teachers and the community, and facing the challenge of the future. Following the ceremony, students departed with tears, sighs of relief, and a high school diploma to begin the road to their adult life.

Only moments before they graduate, K. Cuff hurriedly pins the cap of S. Chailland.

Essential to the proper execution of commencement exercises, are the valuable instructions received from Mr. McKeel.

Woodard Receives "Sweet Swinger" Award

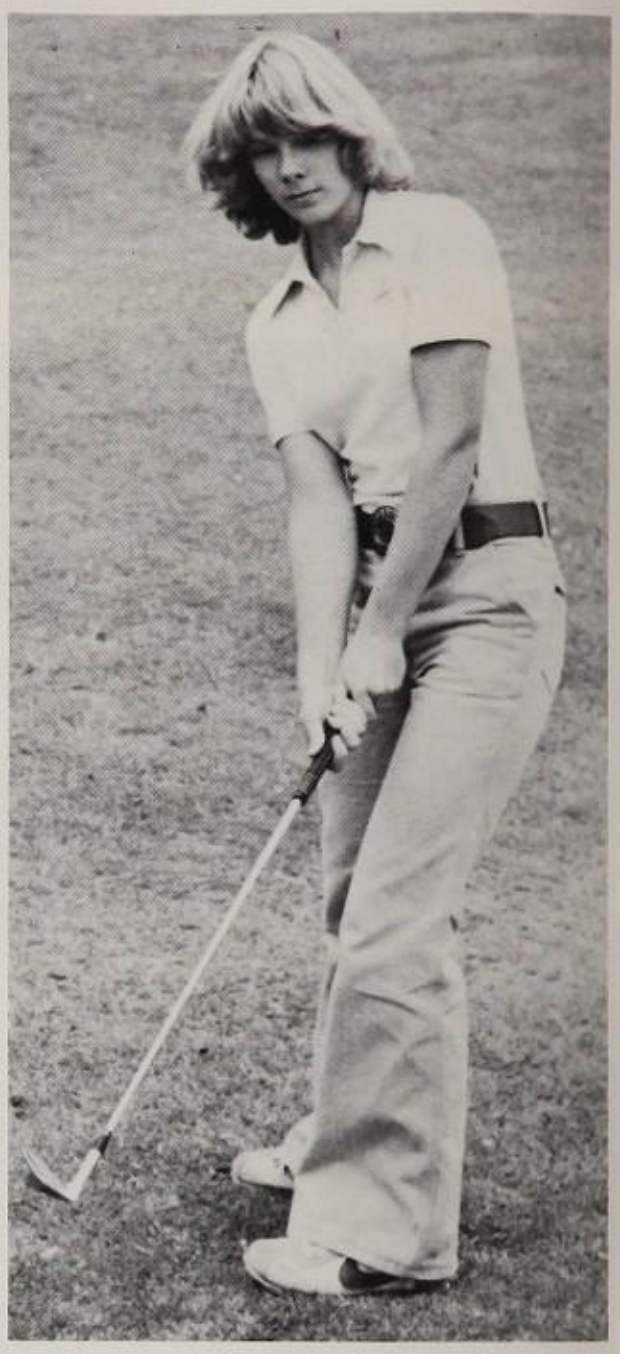
Swinging into one of their best seasons, Girl's Golf team putted their way to 3 wins and 5 losses.

Low medalist honors rotated among three team members; Sr. Lee Ann Woodard, Soph. Terri Toombs, and Soph. Robyn Robertson — all played as the number one girl. They were followed by Sr. Debbie Redman, Soph. Kelly Bryant, and Jr. Lee Ann Hall. The tribe defeated Sikeston once and Doniphan twice.

The girls closed the season at District competition where Toombs and Robertson led the Tribe with scores of 107 each.

The annual Booster Club's "Sweet Swinger" Award was presented to Lee Ann Woodard for the second consecutive year.

First four year letter woman for Girl's Golf, Lee Ann Woodard fires out of the sand at the Doniphan meet.



Inexperience doesn't seem to plague Soph. Terri Toombs as she swings to co-low medalist of the team at district.

In preparation for district competition, Debbie Redman putts for a birdie.

Front row: D. Redman, Coach D. Hunter, L. Woodard. Second row: K. Bryant, T. Toombs, R. Robertson, L. Hall.

Junior Roger Wheeler pitches his way out of a sand trap.

"Sweet Swinger" Matt Shetley putts for another of his numerous birdies.

Golfers Take Second in District

Consisting of one senior, three juniors, and two freshmen, this year's varsity team recorded an impressive 11-1 season.

Playing their first match in cold, drizzling rain, the tribe blasted Sikeston 163-199 with Matt Shetley, Jim Clevenger, and freshman Tommy Legan all firing 40's. Facing a tough Jonesboro team, the golfers once again rose to the occasion with Matt Shetley bagging low honors at 37 and carrying the team to a four stroke win. Playing Poplar Bluff on Kennett's course, the tribe had its worst day of the season losing 158-169. Once again Matt Shetley carded low honors with a 41.

Carrying an 11-1 record to the District tournament, the Indians qualified for the State tournament the fourth consecutive year edging out Caruthersville 318-319 to place second behind Poplar Bluff.

Coach D. Hunter, T. Vavak, S. Crawford, T. Legan, R. Wheeler, M. Shetley, J. Stillman, J. Clevenger, M. Crawford, P. McHaney, D. Jones.

Gamble Receives "Ace Award"

Under the direction of Coach Palmer Pelham, the tribe tennis team suffered another disappointing season. The tribe was plagued by injuries and failed to score a team win.

The number 1 position switched around from Sr. Keith Bartmess, Jrs. Britt Burcham and Garrett Caldwell, and Soph. Mike Archer. John Gamble led the tribe in the win-lose category, winning 2 matches.

The "Ace Award", given by the Booster Club to the hardest working member of the team, was presented to John Gamble.

Warming up before a match, Russ Huffstutler swings a smooth forehand.

A strong backhand volley provides Junior John Gamble with a vicious net game.

Concentration is an important part of the game as Keith Bartmess swings a low forehand.

Cuff and Nichols Tie for 5th in State

One of the season's more successful combinations was the Kerri Cuff-Julie Nichols doubles team, who played during the '78 season as partners for the first time.

Front row: C. Crafton, L. Landrum, S. Wall, K. Orr, L. Biggs, L. Owens, A. Hughes. Second row: L. Madden, P. Simpson, J. Nichols, B. Masterson, K. Cuff, J. Lewis, Coach D. Derrick.

This was a year of firsts for the Girls' Tennis Team. Newly employed P.E. teacher, Didi Derrick, swung into her first season as tennis coach directing the girls to 5 wins and 4 losses.

The tribe defeated Malden, Dexter and triumphed over Cauthersville Cauthersville for the first time in the history of the Girls' Tennis Team.

To close out the season the girls traveled to Cape for district competition. Beverly Masterson and Pam Simpson ventured into the singles bracket and were defeated first round. Doubles competition was a different story for Fresh. Lisa Madden and Soph. Jill Lewis who upset the fourth-seeded team to move into the semi-finals. There they faced Frederickton and dropped the match 1-6, 0-6 placing them third in the district. The doubles team of Kerri Cuff and Julie Nichols was seated second by their 8 and 1 record and finished second in the district, qualifying them for state competition.

At the state meet, Cuff and Nichols defeated a team from Neosha, which boosted a 19-1 record, in straight sets 7-5, 7-6. Facing a St. Louis team, Ladue, in the quarterfinals Cuff and Nichols fell to defeat and out of the tournament.

Coach Derrick stated, "With a few improvements here and there we'll be one of the top teams in SEMO next year."

Four Qualify for State Meet

Competing against much larger schools, the Girls' Track Team proved to be explosive and rather successful.

In the first meet, the girls defeated Hayti and Caruthersville in triangular competition, but the tracksterettes were not as successful in their second meet as they fell to Poplar Bluff and Blytheville. The Indians then traveled to Sikeston where they were victorious in another triangular meet.

In the KHS Invitational, the tracksterettes grabbed third behind a superb performance from the whole team, but again it was the larger schools that won the meet.

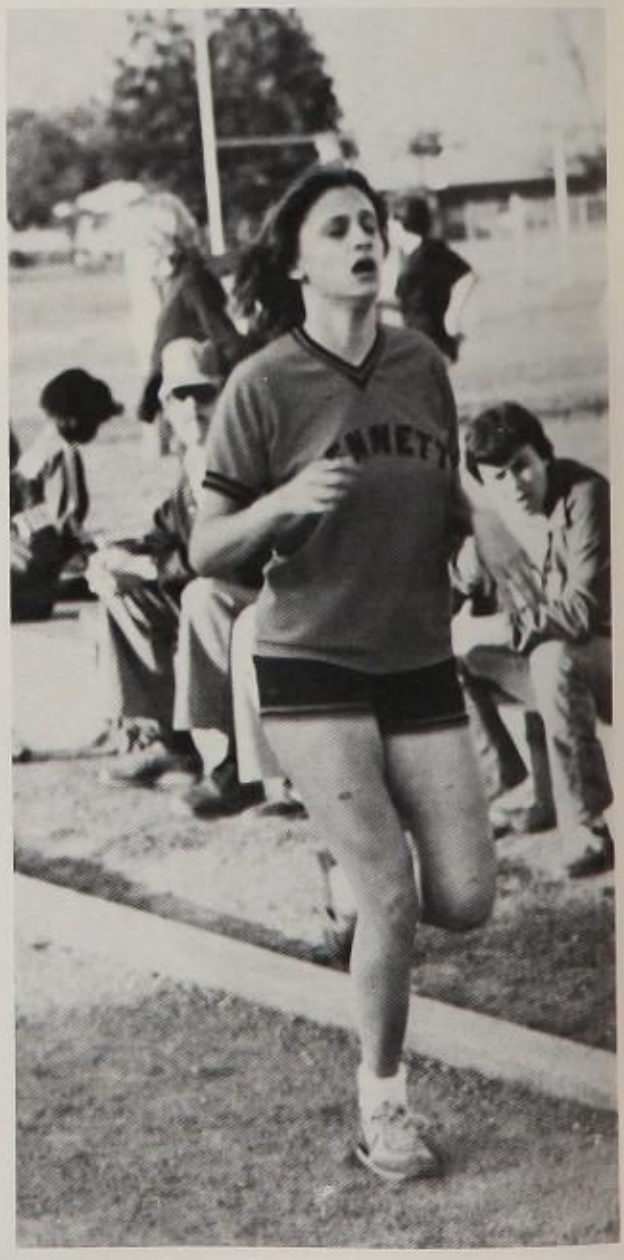
At the district meet, the Indians finished a disappointing fourth but the scores were very close. Their last hope fell on the relays, but the teams couldn't get it together, having problems with handoffs and exchange zones.

During the district meet, four girls qualified for the state meet. Murless Jefferson led the pack in the 440 yd. dash, Luetta Pulliam gained first in the discus, and Diane Hawkins and Carlotta Tarver were one-two in the triple jump.

Two records fell this year as Murless Jefferson broke the 440 yd. dash record with 63.4, bettering the old record by over 3 seconds. Mary Pulliam also set a new field event record throwing the discus 108'4", bettering the old record set at 85'11".

Despite a broken arm, Leisa Wilkerson runs the second leg of the 880 yard relay.

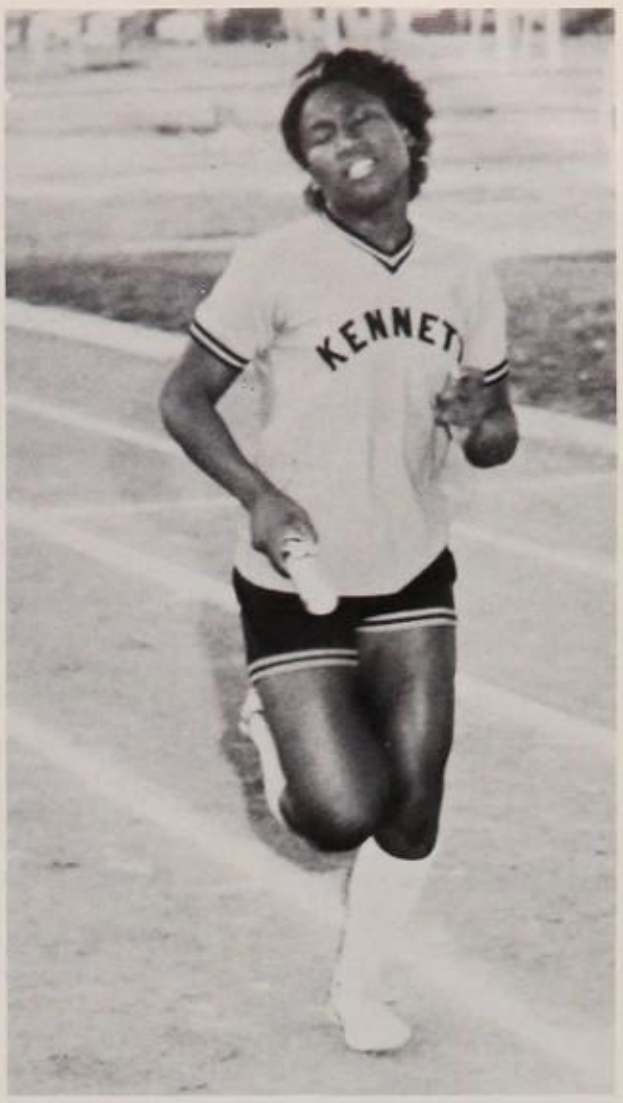
After running four hard laps, Fran Dalton has enough energy to surge for the finish line.



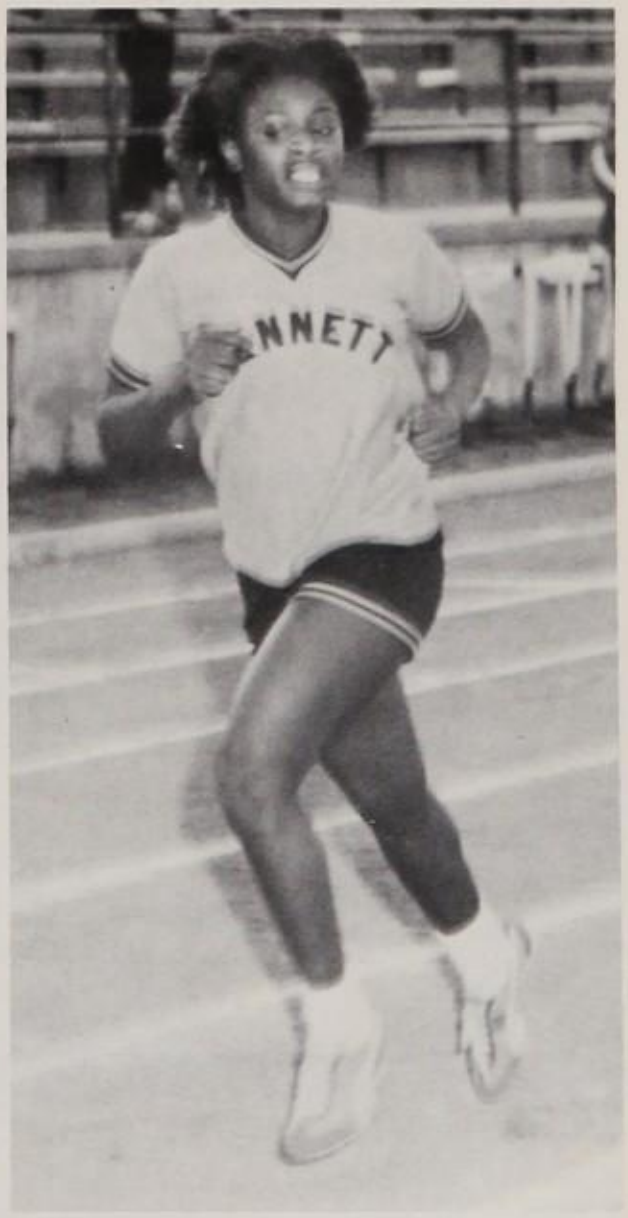
Building the ranks in the distance department, Julie Hyde runs in the number two position.

Attempting to qualify for the finals in the District Meet, Sheryl Crow puts forth an outstanding effort.

Front row: S. Stillman, S. Striegel, L. Wilkerson, S. Crow, K. Goodrich, F. Dalton, B. Prow, K. Moore, T. Caruso, R. Jones, D. Hawkins, L. Owen. Second row: B. Rebstock, K. Masterson, J. Hyde, K. Paine, C. Crafton, C. Cato, A. Cash, T. Napier, B. Collins, J. Nichols, T. Pulliam. Third row: Coach D. Derrick, J. Seaber, L. Hardy, A. White, D. Green, L. Alford, M. Jefferson, S. Huffstutler, C. Johnson, K. Orr, L. Madden, R. Saul, K. Bryant. Fourth row: D. Gunn, B. Crafton, A. Lipsey, J. Lewis, K. Colbert, T. Toombs.



District's third place finisher, B. Prow, contributes her speed to the 440 yd. relay.



Leading the pack in the 440 yd dash, Murless Jefferson takes first place at the District Meet.

Cindermen Break Numerous Records

In the District Meet, the cindermen had several members qualify for state competition by taking either a first or a second place in their event. Qualifying for the State Meet were two triple jumpers, discus and shot throwers; two high jumpers, a man in the half mile and mile, and two relay teams.

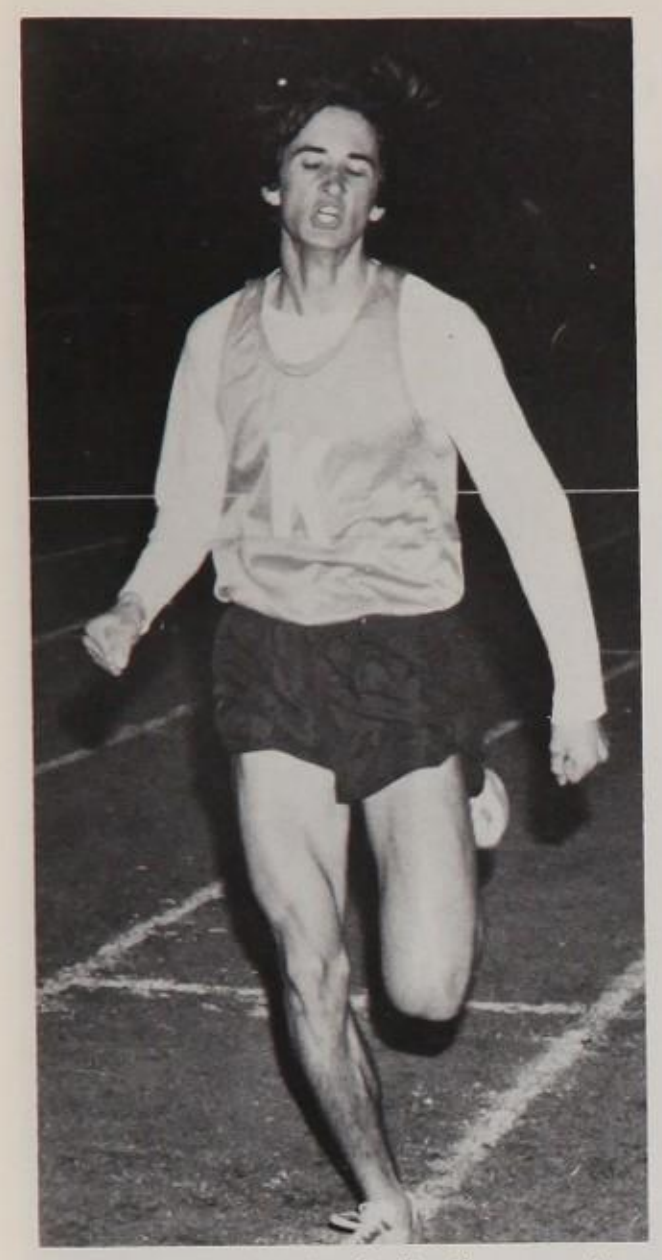
The District competition tallied up athletes from different towns to attempt their skills in state competition. The Indians rallied points by taking all the firsts in the field events to win the District Meet by a decisive margin.

In the finals at the State Track Meet, Damon Richardson took first in the triple jump with a leap of 45'3", and Steve Seward with a jump of 14', won the pole vault, which set a new school record. Other school records set at the state meet were John Dalton in the 880 yard run and the mile run. The mile relay team, consisting of Gramling, Dalton, Green, and Richardson, put another record on the board, breaking the old one by two seconds. David Wheeler leaped 22'10" to break an old record from 1943 by one foot.

Dropping a notch from 4th place a year ago to fifth place this year, the Tribe faced minor difficulties with some men in as much as four events. But overall the Indians pulled through some outstanding victories and some narrowing defeats.

In a dual clash with Poplar Bluff, P. Pittman receives the baton from M. Hutton in the last leg of the 880 yard relay.

Junior John Parker stretches out for greater distance, finishing with a ten yard margin over his opponents.



J. Dalton finishes the half-mile event in a winning style.

Varsity sprinter S. Hubbard leans across the finish line to win over two other opponents.

Fulfilling the goal of a distance runner, Bart Shortnacy places a close third in the District Meet.

First row: D. Wheeler, T. Shepard, G. Cunningham, R. Robinson, M. Street, D. Richardson, J. Reed, S. Seward. Second row: P. Ladd, B. Raspberry, M. Wallace, J. Edwards, R. Hutton, J. McMullan, J. Johnson. Third row: R. Jones, D. Hatch, J. Purcelli, J. Parker, M. Hutton, R. Looney, S. Hubbard, G. Benson, P. Gardener. Fourth row: F. Gentry, T. Parr, T. McGhee, K. Rebstock, B. Shortnacy, J. Dalton, T. Gramling, C. Hilburn, J. Green.

Indians Win Bloomfield Championship

With five returning seniors, Coach Don Tomlinson's Indians provided fans with excitement throughout the basketball season.

Opening the season at home, the Indians displayed a potent offense and rugged defense, running over the Dexter Bearcats 72-55. The tribe then entered the Sikeston Tournament, losing their first game to Charleston 49-46 then struggling to a double overtime victory over New Madrid. In their first conference game, the Indians battled back from twenty points down to send the game into triple overtime before bowing out 75-74 to Sikeston.

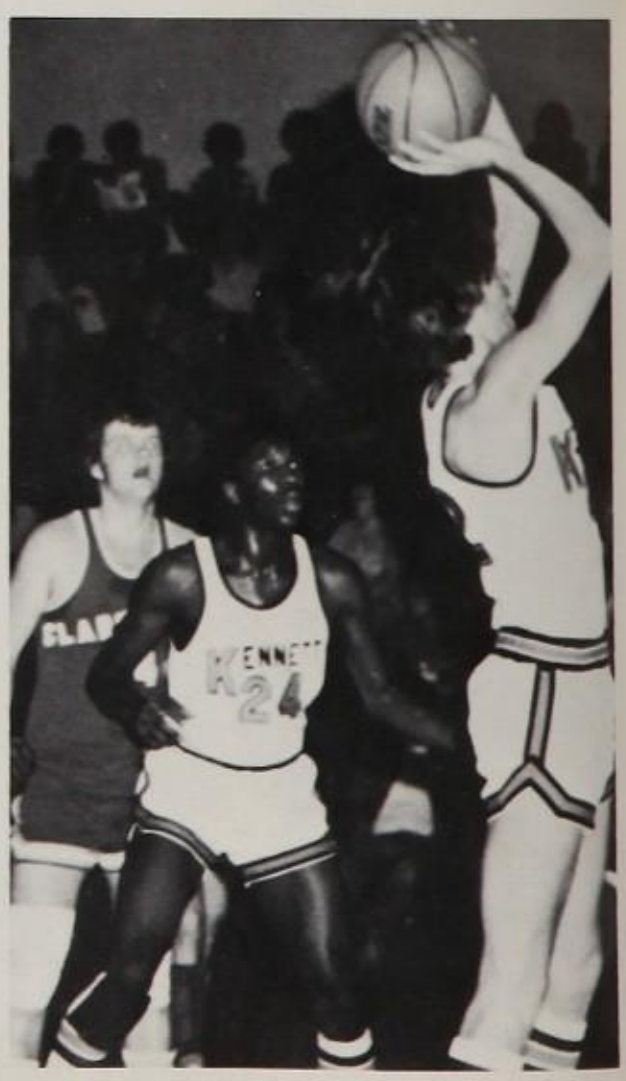
Entering the Bloomfield Tournament, the tribe defeated Campbell 79-60 and then upset third seeded Richland 73-69. Moving into the semifinals against Puxico the Indians jumped out on top early and won 76-69. Playing Poplar Bluff for the championship, the tribe stayed within one at half and then came roaring out in the third quarter to win 59-53.

In the "Bootheel Superbowl" between Kennett and Senath the Indians jumped out to a 16-12 first quarter lead, but the Lions stormed back to go ahead 32-25 at half. The Indians cut the lead to three points going into the final quarter. The tribe kept on the pressure and finally it paid off with Delano Jackson popping in two quick baskets to put the team ahead by one point. Mike Parr dropped in the final freethrow, with only seconds remaining, to secure a 51-49 victory.

Winning five of their last seven regular season games the tribe entered the regional tournament with an 87-60 threshing over Doniphan and then was defeated in the semi-finals by Charleston 62-53 to close the season.

Voted Mr. Hustler, forward David Love struggles with two Charleston players for the rebound.

Clutch shooting by guard Delano Jackson helps put the tribe into the finals of the Bloomfield Tournament.



Coming off a badly sprained ankle at the beginning of the season, Senior Mark Parrent pumps in two points in the Indians 80-64 win over Clarkton.

Indians Take Second in Invitational

Under head coach Don Tomlinson and new assistant coach Ward Billings, the junior varsity Indians posted 12 wins and 6 losses for the season.

In the opener, the junior varsity outdistanced the sting of the Dexter Bearcats for a victory of 40-32. The following week during the Kennett Invitational Tournament, the Indians turned it on to blow past Bloomfield 66-46, only to fall to Hayti 70-63 in the finals. The next encounter started the road-trip for the Tribe when they visited the Hayti Indians for a victory. In a tug of war bout against Malden, the Tribe came out victorious to boost their season record to 4-2. Traveling to New Madrid in an attempt to put a new winning talley on the record, the Indians came up ahead 64-46. On the road again, the Indians put up a hard fight, but fell to the Cape Tigers 52-43. After coming back home they faced another trip, to the Bootheel Superbowl. In the opening, the Indians boosted out in front and held the pace winning 56-40. When the Indians hosted Poplar Bluff, the mules came out ahead in the end. Another loss came when North Pemiscot posted up a 70-61 win. After two losses in a row the Indians put it together and won four straight victories over Perryville, Clarkton, Doniphan, and Charleston. With these victories under their belt they traveled to Caruthersville only to lose a close decision 87-75. The last bout decision, was judged a 61-58 victory for the Indians, giving them a 75% record for the season.

Using his speed, Freshman Jimmy Green forces two points in, while the buzzer announces Kennett's victory over Clarkton.

In a close game against Charleston, Ronnie Pulliam holds on to force a jumpball.

Indians Hopes Are Burned

Another crucial season was at hand this year when Chief Miller recommended three new coaches for the Kennett High School Coaching Staff.

Coach Bob Jackson, a former coach from St. Genevieve, left his hometown to coach Kennett's offensive and defensive line, to which he gave the name "Hogs". Nelson McCullough, an assistant coach from Osceola, Ark., left a winning program there to coach the offensive and defensive ends of the Tribe. Ward Billings, a native of Kennett, played for the University of Missouri before coming to coach the linebackers and offensive backs. This group's goal was a stronger and tougher team for this year and years to come.

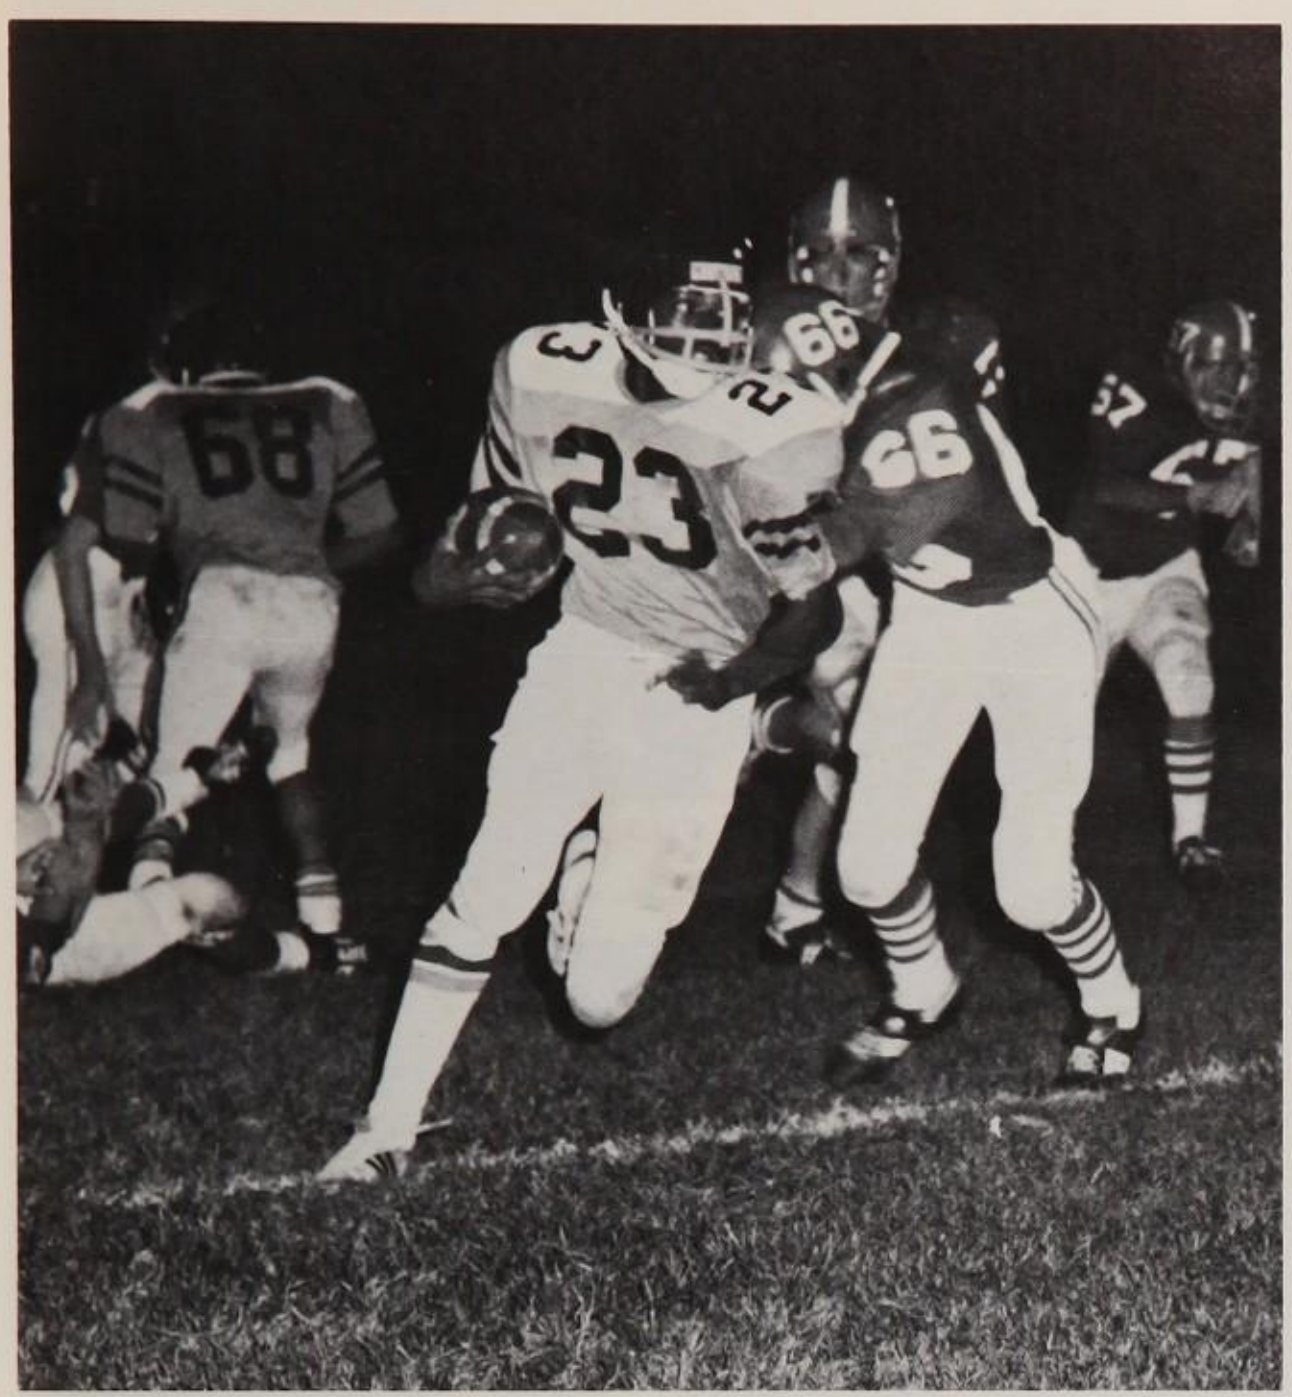
Kennett's home season started with Caruthersville, who was ranked first in the state. The Indians provided Caruthersville with a challenge, but fell to a 22-15 loss. After a disappointing loss, the Indians jumped back on track with a victory over the Malden Greenwaves 19-12. In the first conference clash, miscues and bad breaks dealt the Indians their second setback of the year to the Poplar Bluff Mules 38-12.

With the two losses behing them, the tribe then traveled to Jackson, where the Indians were stuck back in crucial Semo Conference action 32-6. The Indians then traveled out of state to Paragould, Arkansas, and became the only team from the bootheel to win an out of state game.

After a victory over Paragould the Indians played Sikeston at home in hopes of balancing their record to 3-3. Instead, they suffered a loss at the hands of the Bulldogs . . .

After sprinting across field, Petrick Gardener brings down a Bluejay one yard shy of the goal line.

Junior running back Tim Gramling attempts to scamper over a Sikeston Bulldog as he eyes the goal line.



As the field clears, Freshman Jimmy Green puts on a couple of moves to the outside and is on the run.

All-Conference linebacker Steve Seward intercepts for a three yard run.

Three Selected to All-Conference Team

Searching for a comeback, the next week the Tribe battled the Charleston Bluejays through the most offensive game of the season. They dropped a heartbreaking decision 27-20.

During the Homecoming dual the Indians fell short the first half to the Perryville Pirates 7-3. During the second half, however, the Tribe came back to win 9-7.

The following week the Indians faced the Cape Central Tigers which resulted in a disappointing loss 49-6. The last game, which Coach Miller called, "Now or Never" was lost in a decisive battle to the Dexter Bearcats.

After a decisive year, three Tribe members received All-Conference recognition. Senior S. Seward was selected for the number one defensive linebacker position, while D. Hamlett and M. Wallace were voted defensive and offensive tackle positions on the second team. This year, sports announcers from St. Louis to the Missouri Bootheel selected an All-District team honoring Senior S. Seward with a placement at first position linebacker. Even though the team received many honors, their hopes from the beginning of the season were stilled still burned at a 3-7 record.

Swarm Has Outstanding 6-1 Record

To the Indian fans, the Junior Varsity is not the "B" Team but the "Swarm." Coach Miller gave them this name when they traveled on the road to play Poplar Bluff and defeated the Mules by a score of 18-6. Coach Miller stated, "They just went out there and swarmed them." Pitted against teams considerably larger, the Indians tallied an outstanding record. The "Swarm" opened up the season by pulling off three victories over Malden, Paragould, and Poplar Bluff. The only loss on their record came when they visited Caruthersville, falling by a one point margin. After two more decisive wins over Portageville and Dexter, the "Swarm" played host to East Prarie the last game of the season. "Swarming" over East Prarie by an outstanding margin, the "B" Indians ended an impressive year of football.

Dalton 5th at District

Compared to a rose in spring by Coach Billy Wilkerson, Cross Country runners were "late bloomers".

The tribe didn't get their act together until the last half of the season when they took a strong second place in the Paducah Invitational. Slackening off to a disappointing fifth in the Kennett Invitational, The C.C.'ers fought to close out their season with a spirited third place finish at district competition.

Junior John Dalton headed the tribe by running in the number one position. A strong fifth place finish at district qualified John for the state meet where he finished 69th out of 160 runners. But the team would not have been complete without Robert Lonney, Billy Norman, and the combined efforts of all the team. They compiled the points that made this a winning season.

With Jackson runners hot on his trail, Bart Shortnacy "humps it" to achieve a comfortable margin.

Levee Leaperettes Run a Challenging Year

Fran Dalton's expression is worth a thousand words after a challenging race.

Sprinting into the chute, Sheryl Crow takes Third at the Kennett Invitational.

Rain, snow, sleet, and hail weren't enough to hold back Coach Billy Willerson's Girls Cross Country as they finished with 2 wins and 1 loss in dual meets. Their defeat came at the hands of Poplar Bluff.

The senior member of the team, Fran Dalton, led the levee leaperettes followed by Sheryl Crow, Judy Seaber, Julie Hyde and Suzanne Stillman. In preparation for meets the girls ran figure 8's around the school, the mile to Jr. High and then back, the 1½ mile course, and the levees.

The Booster Club's annual "Road Runner" Award for the hardest working member of the team was presented to Fran Dalton and Sheryl Crow.

Coach Wilkerson stated, "With only Fran graduating, we will be tougher than a bucket full of alligators next year."

Front row: V. Autry, F. Dalton, S. Crow. Second row: S. Stillman, R. Reglin, M. Alexander, S. Striegal, A. Cash, C. Richardson. Third row: J. Hyde, L. Wilkerson, J. Skaggs. Fourth row: J. Seaber, K. Goodrich.

Proper conditioning pays off for Judy Seaber as she crosses the finish line.

Indians Uphold Conference Championship

The Indian baseball team tallied a total of twelve wins and two losses, the last coming at the hands of Malden in the Tri-County Championship game 7-5.

During the regular season the tribe executed near perfect ball, defeating Caruthersville in the first game 2-1 on a solo home run by Dale Madle and a double by Mike Brown sending home Keith Rickman for the winning run. The Indians decisively defeated their next five opponents before losing to Caruthersville 3-2 in extra innings. After this loss the tribe took both games of a double-header over Senath-Hornersville. The Indians won their last two regular season games, first over Hayti 7-3, and then Holcomb 8-3. This secured their second straight conference championship.

In the season finale, the Indians played Malden for the Tri-County Championship. The tribe got off to a slow start with a Malden player slugging a grand slam, but Kennett started battling back in the fourth inning scoring three runs. Malden cushioned their lead in the next inning, with two runs making the score 7-4. Going into the bottom of the seventh inning, Mike Brown came to the plate and laced a single. Seward then hit a double over second base sending Brown home to make the score 7-5. With two outs the first base umpire ruled the Seward did not touch first base thus causing the third out and ending the game.

Leading the tribe's pitching department, Senior Dale Madle compiled a record of eight wins and one loss. Madle also led in hitting an average of .473 and three home runs.

Pitcher Dale Madle tosses another one of his many strikes enroute to an 8-1 pitching season.

As the ball soars toward first base, determined Keith Rickman eyes the bag.

Swinging a heavy bat, Eddie Foulkes strikes at the ball.

By diving headlong into the base, Scot Chailland escapes a pick-off attempt.

Stomach first, Junior John Parker digs into third base.

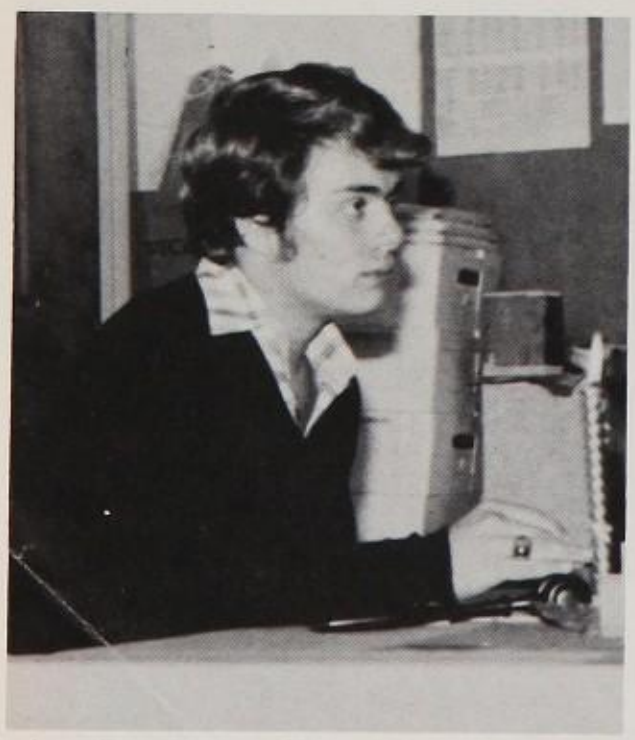
NHS Participates in Service Projects

National Honor Society participated in several service and money raising projects this year. The club's first activity was its annual induction ceremony on Oct. 18. The 19 new members, having a grade point average of 8.75 or above and showing the required qualities of character, leadership, scholarship, and service, brought the total number of members to 34. A popcorn ball sale was the first money raising project of the year. It was held on Oct. 24 and earned the club $245.24 that went toward their annual scholarship fund, which the Bank of Kennett matches at the end of the year. On Nov. 25, members joined in a service project of selling "Gong Show" tickets for the Shriner's Club to help the St. Louis Crippled Children's Hospital. Next, NHS visited the kindergarten on Dec. 18 where a Nativity Play was staged by NHS members and kindergarten students. Another December service project was caroling and delivering Christmas cards to elderly hospital patients. In February, the society purchased books for the school library and sent Valentines to the Senath Home for the Golden Years. The club's final activity for the year was the annual NHS picnic held in May.

October's traditional popcorn ball sale is promoted by Brenda Mungle and Sheryl Crow. This sale netted NHS $245.24.



After the ceremonial lighting of the candles, a NHS meeting is brought to order by president Jack Carter.

DECA Teaches Merchandising Techniques

"Deca gives students the opportunity to be leaders . . . It tries to prepare people for the 'real' world of work," stated Mrs. Donna Winston, a Deca sponser. One of Deca's main goals is to teach students the art of merchandising, therefore, they participated in various selling projects throughout the year. The month of October brought the first of two sales projects. A candy sale was held from Oct. 23 through Oct. 28. Deca members again participated in a selling project from Nov. 17 through Nov. 22 with a candle sale which netted them $500.

In November, National Deca week was held. Club members Nicky Vandeventer and Tina Hartwell observed the holiday by speaking to various sophomore English classes on the Deca program. December 1 the Deca Christmas party gave the salespeople a chance to slow their pace. It was only for a short while, however. On Jan. 21 Deca members began to complete their major civic project for the year by presenting Mrs. Alma Ray with a motorized wheelchair. On Feb. 15 money from the club's earlier sales projects surfaced again helping to send participants to Deca's District Contest. Later project money was used again, this time to help the club finance its annual Spring Employer Employee Appreciation Banquet. The banquet was a way of saying, "Thank you" to local businesses who cooperated with the Deca program by hiring members and training them in various fields.

Medical Science Club Honors Volunteers

An enjoyable part of candystriper Sue Lowery's volunteer work is entertaining a young visitor in the pediatric ward.

Medical Science Club began the year with a shaky start because of the absence of their previous sponsor Mrs. Kay Stack who moved to St. Louis. Mrs. Pat Fisher and Mrs. Betty Poindexter, however, assumed the leadership, initiating a candy bar sale lasting from the first of November until the end of Jan. The $924.75 raised was used to fund the capping ceremony and as a basis for Medical Science Club's annual $100 Senior Scholarship. On Jan. 29 the capping ceremony was held in the Bank of Kennett Community Room. Twenty-five students were honored for their involvement in candy striping activities, with an assortment of caps, stripes, and pins. Senior Lavanda Swain was later presented with a watch for serving over 1200 volunteer hours.

Art Club Wins 10th Place in Delta Fair Parade

Art Club began its year by winning the 10th place prize of $60 in the Delta Fair Parade with its float, "The Pink Panther Investigates the Delta Fair." Members also sponsored the Junior Arts and Crafts Booth and helped set up the High School and Adult Art Displays for the Azaela Garden Club at the Delta Fair. Other community projects included the fall and spring art shows during the KHS plays and the donation of Christmas toys to the Delta Head Start after a fire destroyed the building.

An auction of football pictures and a raffle of a painting helped members raise money for their $100 scholarship and annual trip to the Memphis Art Museums.

To strengthen her plan, varsity debater D. Green investigates new facts on comprehensive energy.

Children Judge Storytelling Event

In spite of the bad weather which led to the cancellation of several Speech-Debate tournaments, members traveled to five out-of-town tournaments and to district. Varsity debaters B. Haraway and D. Green led the team in collection of honors. They placed second at Perryville and Lambath College in Jackson, and received an excellent rating at District competition. In Junior Varsity, debaters C. Brown and L. Key captured third place at Jackson.

In individual events, B. Crafton won first place at Jackson in storytelling and received an excellent rating at District.

On March 8, Kennett hosted their annual tournament. Unique to this tournament was the storytelling event, judged by four and five year olds. Though not allowed to compete, Kennett debaters presented 13 trophies to their guests.

Plans for the Kennett Speech-Debate tournament are discussed by debate sponsor Mrs. W. McAnnally and member B. Crafton.

Key Club Wins Honors

"Girls in Key Club" remarked an astonished student as four girls were inducted into Key Club. Five eligible students from each class are honored by being asked to join annually. Representing the Sr. class were Rob Robinson, JoNel Newman, Julie Striegel, Debra Green, and Fran Dalton. With the induction of girls, the Key Club Sweetheart tradition was banished.

The rules, however, remained unchanged. The girls were expected to participate in the projects as the boys. The girls competed in the point system just as the boys did by parking cars at football and basketball games, attending the monthly meetings, refereeing little league basketball and football games, and assisting the Kiwanis Club in their projects.

Points accumulated by each member attributed to his eligibility for attending the annual convention which was held in Hot Springs. It was attended by 600 Key Club members from schools throughout the two-state area. The Kennett High School's Key Club was honored by being the only Key Club in a two-state region to place in three seperate competitions held over the weekend at the convention. The members were accompanied by William Gish and Doug Irvin, faculty advisors for the Kennett Key Club.

Accompaniments Enhance Choral Concerts

According to Mr. James Finch, the mixed chorus director," . . . Working with students is very worthwhile, especially when all the pieces come together and you hear music." Many concerts during the year had a new flair with the addition of more musical accompaniment. The first evidence of this new "flair" was heard on the twentieth of November when the Thanksgiving Service was held at the First Assembly of God Church. At that time the chorus was not only accompanied by piano but also by guitar, and percussion. On December the nineteenth, the Freshman and Sr. Mixed Chorus co-hosted the annual Christmas Concert with musical accompaniment surfacing again during a selection entitled "Sing We Now of Christmas." Special effects for this song were produced by a collaboration of instruments. The annual Spring Concert was held on May 10. Pop Selections from this concert, again accompanied by piano, guitar, and percussion included "Best of the Beach Boys," "Everybody be Dancin," and "Dream Away."

All-District tryouts were held in Cape Girardeau. Nine of the sixty-five member Mixed Chorus attended. Janeene McDonald, Stanly Cook, Scott Pickard, and Larry Wake were chosen as members of All-District Chorus.

Eighteen Sr. Chorus students were selected to attend the Southeast Missouri Choral Festival on November 21. Working with a guest clinician, the group joined students in a girls chorus and a mixed chorus. After a full day of rehearsing, these students presented a concert in the Dexter High School Auditorium that evening.

"Pickin' but not grinning," Sr. Joe Walker ads a unique touch to the instrumental accompaniments for the annual Thanksgiving Service.

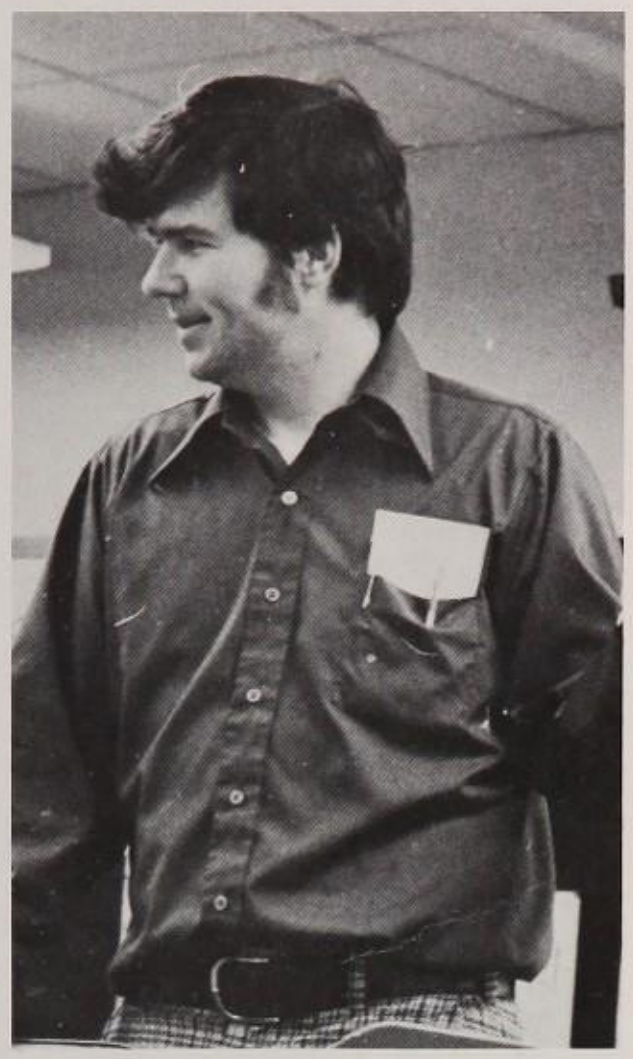
Brown and Jones Selected for All-District

Earning extra-credit points for the quarter, Freshman Chorus member Lori Landrum ushers for the spring play.



Freshman Chorus is an hour filled with many surprises. This is evident in Mr. Finch's expression.

Directed by Mr. James Finch and accompanied by Judy Medlock and Julie Hyde, the Freshman Chorus participated in many activities throughout the year. The forty-two member group combined their talents with those of the Sr. Mixed Chorus on Monday, November twentieth, for a Thanksgiving Service held in the First Assembly of God Church. On December nineteenth they once again performed with the Sr. Mixed Chorus as the combined group presented the annual Christmas Concert, and in May they joined the Freshman Band to stage the annual Spring Concert. Selections included in this performance were "Love Isn't Love" and "Follow the Sun."

Seven members of Freshman Chorus attended All-District tryouts which were held in Dexter on October 28. Two members, Charlie Brown and David Jones, were selected to perform with the All-District Choir at the District Teachers' Meeting held in Cape Girardeau during the Spring.

Choral Groups Entertain Civic Clubs

In addition to the Mixed Chorus, two additional choral groups performed with the assistance of Mr. James Finch. The girls' Sextet and the Mixed Ensemble added variety to the Spring Choral concert.

Sextet performed a medley of four tunes for the Little Miss Christmas Bell Contest and for civic clubs such as the Ladies' Wednesday Music Club and P.E.O.

The Mixed Ensemble consisted of four boys and four girls. It, too, performed for the Little Miss Christmas Bell Contest and civic clubs, singing a melody of Broadway musical hits.

Paula Minton and John Dalton, respectively, accompanied the groups.

Kennett Hosts Concert Festival

K.H.S. Senior Band started practicing for its busy marching schedule one week before school began. In addition to marching at all home football games, the band traveled to Dexter to present a half-time show at the final game of the season. This year's performance at the annual Poplar Bluff Marching Festival consisted of a series of maneuvers including a star and a diamond drill.

Student teacher, Mr. Anthony Nowel, assisted Director Dennis Nail in preparing the band for the Delta Fair Parade, the Homecoming Parade, and the Homecoming half-time show. He also constructed an elaborate field show to the theme from SWAT.

During concert season on March 20, area bands gathered to work with clinician Mr. Don Minx from the Music Department at Arkansas State University. He suggested improvements and critiqued the bands at a concert later that evening.

The band gave its annual Pop Concert on February 18 which featured "Little Rhapsody in Blue" and on May 14 presented its Spring Concert which included an electronic piece entitled "Jacques Cousteau's Underwater World."

Concentration on the practice field is one reason why T. Bulla is the band's No. 1 cornet player.

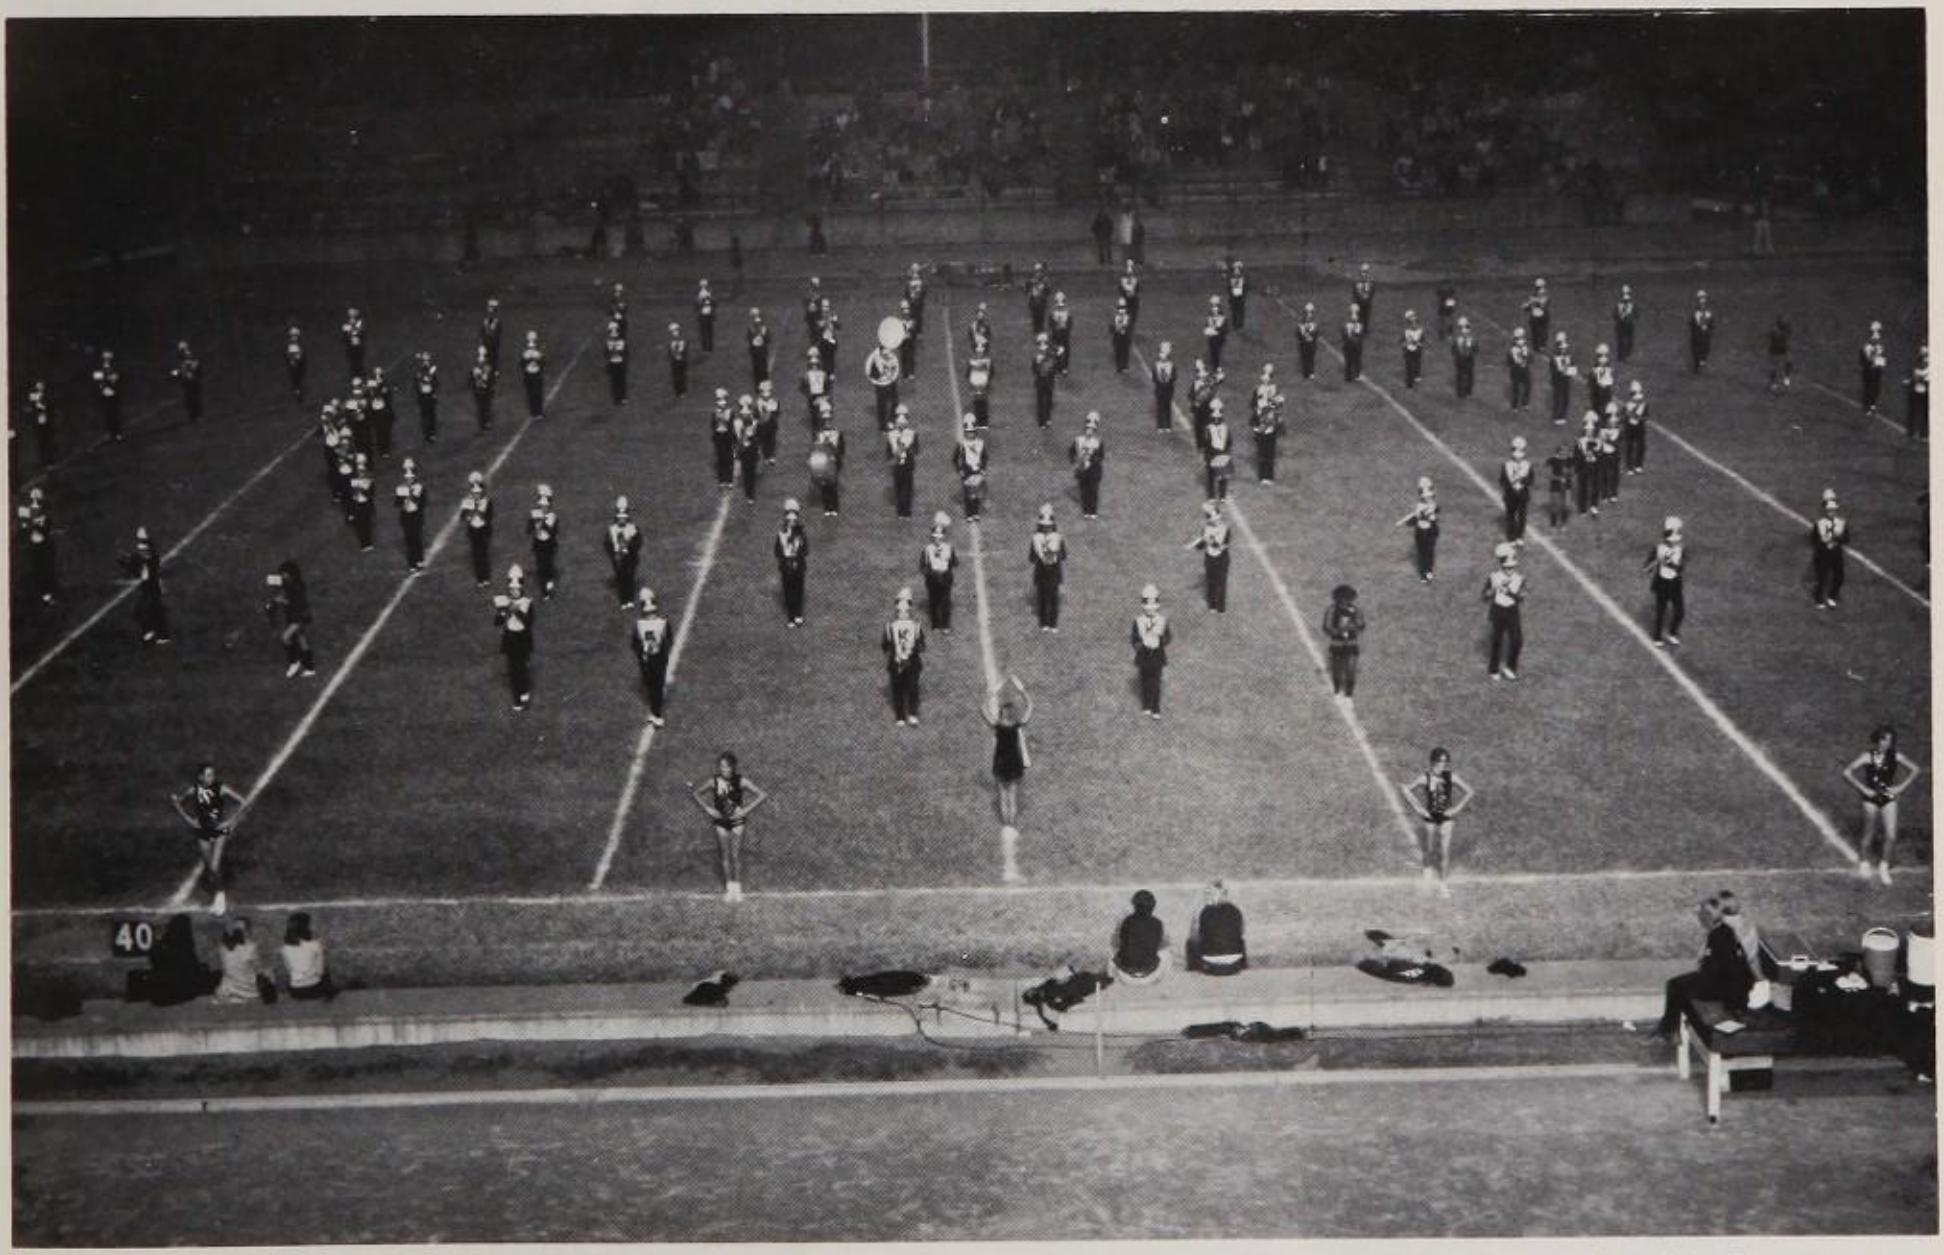
During the Kennett Concert Band Festival, Mr. D. Minx from the Music Department at ASU works with the bands before he critiques them at the concert later that evening.



After weeks of practice, the KHS Marching Band performs a series of spectacular drills to the theme from SWAT.

Twirlers Host Clinic

Comprised of four line twirlers, a feature twirler, and a drum majorette, the Sr. High Twirlers added an extra spark of talent to many band performances.

In an effort to finance camp expenses, they held a twirling clinic at the City Park from July 31 to August 4. The twirlers taught their twenty students twirling fundamentals, routines, strutting, and drum majoring. The purpose of the clinic was to stimulate younger children's interest and to provide a refresher course for the 8th and 9th grade twirlers. The clinic enabled the Sr. High Twirlers to earn 300 dollars for twirling camp, which they attended July 19 to July 20 at A.S.U. Many of the new skills learned were demonstrated in half time performances at football and basketball games throughout the year.

Freshman Band members, under the direction of Mr. Dennis Nail, polished their marching skills and began the year by marching in the Delta Fair Parade, Sept. 19, to the tune of the Fight Song. The 38 member group next traveled to Poplar Bluff on Sept. 26 to participate in the yearly Marching Mass Band Festival. Next on the agenda was the annual Spring Concert, which took place in April. Pop Selections from this concert were: All By Myself, Elton John In Concert, You Light Up My Life, and Feelings.

Tatler Awarded First Place

Named after one of the first newspapers in England, the Tatler follows the tradition of keeping people informed. Fourteen Tatlers were published and distributed under the sponsorship of Mrs. Patt Sharp, one of which was rated number one by the Missouri Interscholastic Press Association.

The staffers also sponsored the annual Deca-Door contest and awarded Mrs. Ray's 2nd hour accounting class 1st place. They also sponsored the Paperdoll Contest and the Who's Who Contest.

"The Tatler staff seems to be a very concerned and conscientious staff . . . as fine a staff as we've ever had." commented Mrs. Sharp.

Cuff Directs Pep Band

"Disco Inferno," "Manhattan Spiritual," and a "Medley from Saturday Night Fever" were just a few of the selections played by the pep band during pep assemblies and basketball half-times. The 42 member group rehearsed before games, occasionally after school and during the regular band hour. While multi-talented band director Mr. Dennis Nail performed with the pep band on the bass, the band was under the direction of Kerri Cuff. Spirited numbers, new and old, keyed up enthusiasm in students, spectators, and athletes.

Indian Undergoes Major Change

Several unique additions were included in the Indian. Spot color, which is featured throughout the yearbook, and a four-color cover are being used for the first time. In the introductory section, the layouts were planned to utilize more pictures. Another first is the use of co-editors instead of an editor-in-chief and copy editor.

Publication of the yearbook was financed through sale of advertising space and sale of books to students. Were it not for the help of area businesses, students would be required to pay almost twice the price for their books. The publication of the Indian this year is estimated to cost about $9,000.

Convenience for faculty is an important factor as L. Woodard consults with Mr. D. Irvin about the scheduling of his yearbook picture.

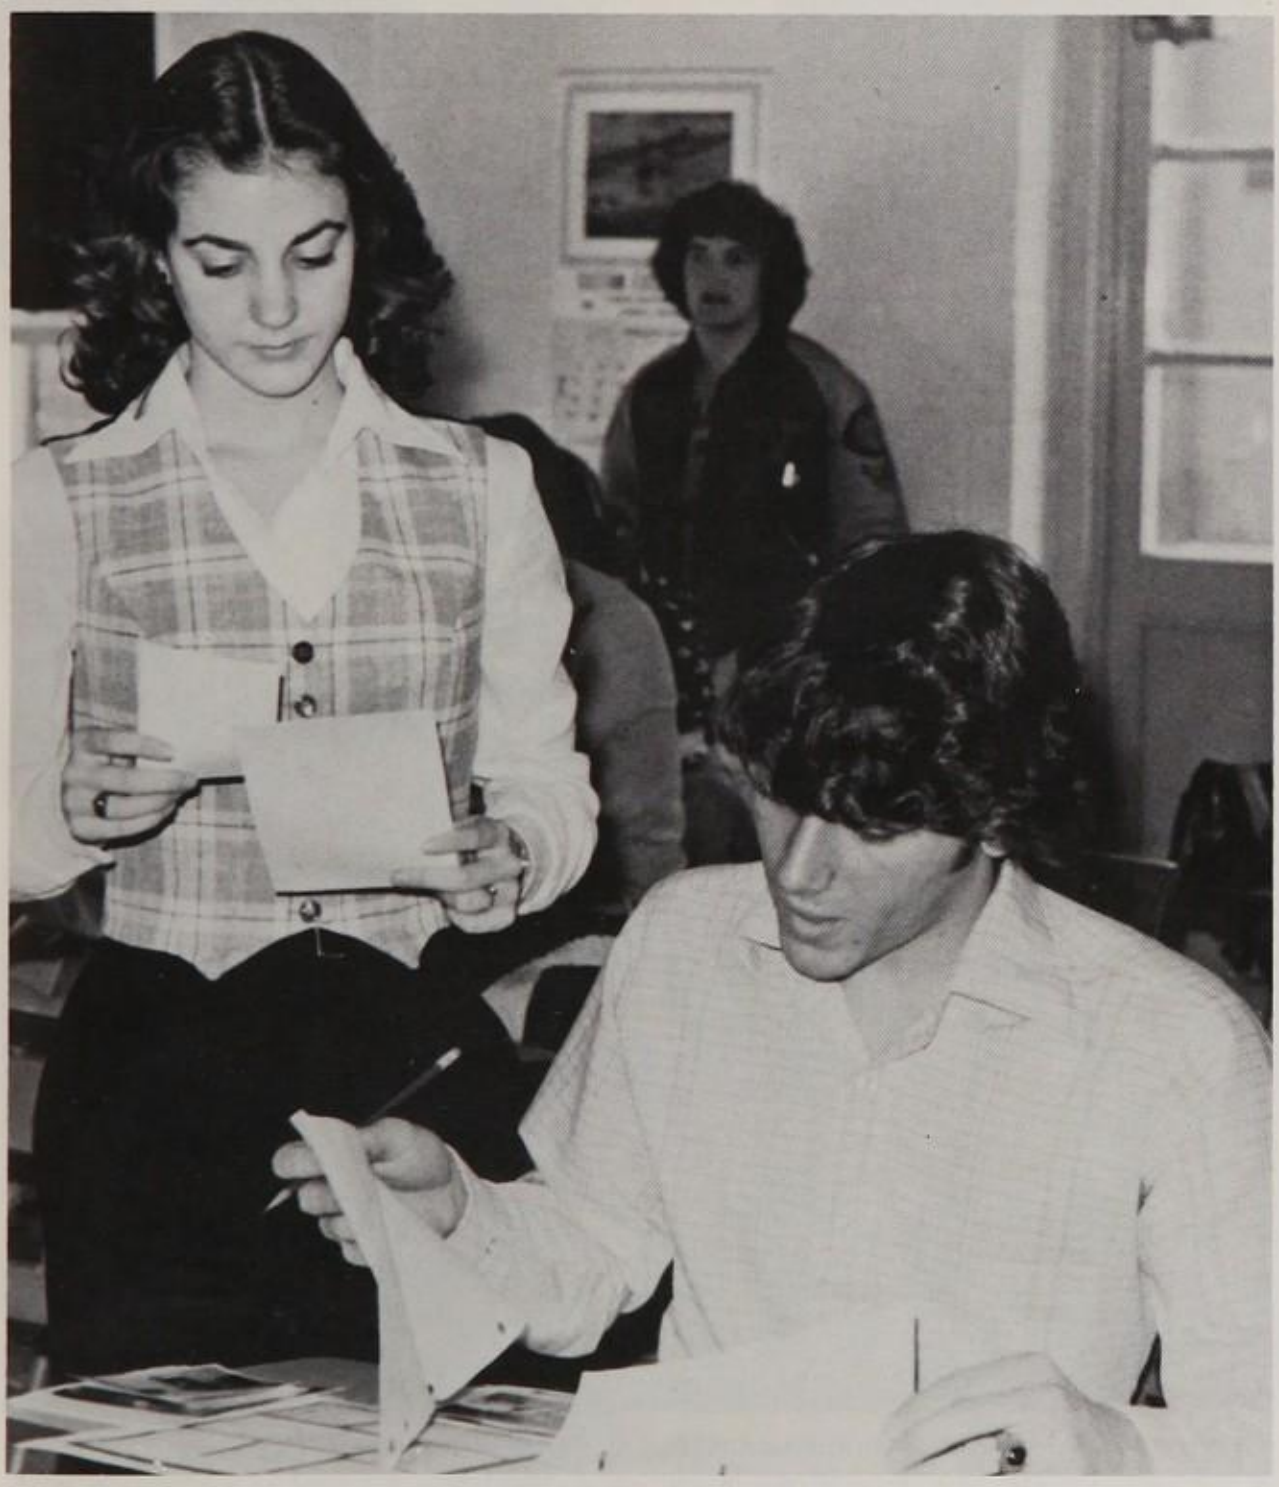
Yearbook expenses are discussed by business managers F. Dalton and B. Hill as they review the ledger.

As her first deadline approaches, T. Napier receives help from K. Bartmess.



Preparation of the ladder by co-editors J. Newman and K. Bartmess is necessary for organization of the yearbook.

Revisions in her body copy are contemplated by B. Hilburn.

Student Council Participates in Civic Activities

To carry out their dual responsibility to the community and school, Student Council participated in various activities. During Homecoming, the council made and carried out the arrangements for the parade and half-time festivities. The Mod Assembly and Spirit Week were also sponsored by Student Council.

Members held food drives for the needy prior to Thanksgiving and Christmas, went Christmas caroling, and presented Santa Claus at State School #10 to distribute toys. Other civic projects included a year round clean-up campaign and a bake sale to buy food and other necessities for the Humane Society.

As secretary of Student Council, C. Parmenter finds it necessary to keep minutes up to date.

Library Club Sponsors Book Fair

Library Club members D. Tibbles, D. Wyatt, and J. Simmons assist a hopeful book buyer make her selection.

Among Library Club's activities was a book fair held during Parent-Teacher Night. It was an educational opportunity which enabled parents and students to choose books leisurely. In addition, an information table was stationed outside of the library where parents were allowed to inquire about the purpose and activities of Library Club.

Under the supervision of sponsor, Mrs. C. Barnett, members thoroughly cleaned the library by vacuuming the books and dusting the shelves.

Other activities included sponsoring member Robb Robinson in the Run-for-Fun at Poplar Bluff and providing refreshment for the teachers at the last KHS staff meeting of the year.

Arrangements for the book fair require R. Robertson's full attention at a monthly meeting.

Cunningham Heads K-Club

Having approximately 100 members, K-Club is the school's largest club. President Gerald Cunningham began the club's business with the traditional selection of the Homecoming Queen and her court in October. Basketball season united all the letter persons once again when the K-Club sold bench seats to game fans to aid in the fight against Muscular Dystrophy. The club's final activity was readying the track for the track team's opening competitions in March.

The Future Business Leaders of America were in the giving spirit this year. It all started in October when teachers were treated to goody bags filled with candy and cookies. On Thanksgiving and Christmas, baskets were presented to needy families, and Dec. 12 FBLA held its annual pot luck dinner with Dr. H. Byron Masterson, retired Kennett School District Superintendent, as a special guest. A three week candy bar sale in January raised funds for the District Competition held in Dexter. Teachers were remembered once again on Valentines Day which was proclaimed Teacher Appreciation Day by FBLA members, who served teachers refreshments in the school cafeteria. Another club holiday soon followed, FBLA Week Feb. 11-17. Highlighting the week was a discussion on various types of careers by Mr. Wendell Crow.

Cheerleaders Bring Home Spirit Stick

With a new football season, September 1, came a new cheerleading squad. Under the leadership of captain Linda Alford, the cheerleaders boosted the spirits of team members by decorating the locker room before all games, hanging spirited signs, and presenting suckers to the players.

Throughout the summer, the cheerleaders were busy earning money to pay Ole Miss Cheerleading Clinic expenses. Car washes, rummage sales, and bake sales were some money raising projects. Another summer project was a clinic held for youngsters interested in being a future cheerleader. The money they made from the class T-shirts sale which the cheerleaders sponsored the previous spring went toward sending the squad to camp.

Once there, the squad earned four spirit sticks, one of which was brought home.

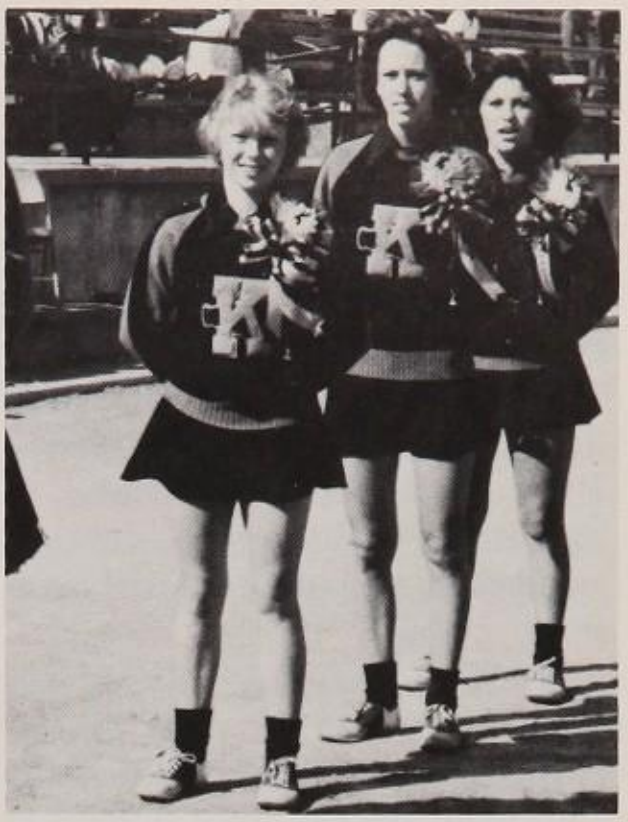
The cheerleading squad of ten spirited girls — two seniors, seven juniors, and one sophomore — earned, along with the basketball team, the sportsmanship award at the Bloomfield tournament.

Indian spirit is spread by the KHS Cheerleading squad as they ride through the Delta Fair Parade.

As the game comes to a close finish, K. Woodard and M. Richardson's suspense mounts.

"We love our Indians" sings the cheerleader line-up as the Injuns move closer to victory.

"Indians are dynamite" cheers the squad.



During the National Anthem at Homecoming pre-game, K. Woodard, B. Collins, and M. Richardson stand at attention and anticipate forthcoming activities.

VICA Attends State Contest

Pride in workmanship is the main goal VICA members strive to accomplish. Vocational Industrial Clubs of America (VICA) is made up of only vocational students. The main purpose of the club is to train its members in responsibility, leadership, and pride in workmanship.

The District VICA contest was held in Kennett this year. In the competition, members of VICA competed against other schools in leadership and manual skills. The opening and closing ceremony team was honored by receiving first place, qualifying them for the State Competition held in St. Louis.

Also receiving honors in the district competition were Ted Mungle and Dennis Garner taking second and third, respectively, in the air-conditioning and refrigeration competition. Earl White was awarded third in the carpentry category. Throughout the year, the club pursued many money-making projects enabling them to go to Libertyland and sponsored a rock-a-thon from which the Delta Children's Home and the Humane Society received proceeds. The group was under the sponsorship of Mr. Wendell Bristow.

Future Homemakers from the district gathered here to exhibit their Sew with Cotton entries. Recognition was given in each category after the fashion show in which each entry was required to model his or her outfit. Kim Orr took first in the sportswear show. Janice LaGore won first in the advanced division and also went home with the Best of Show honor. She then went on to the Cotton Ginners' Convention and then to model her outfit at the Midsouth Fair. The regional F.H.A. meeting was also held at KHS this year. Officers from Regional FHA clubs attended the meeting. Regional officers were elected during the meeting. Two local F.H.A.'ers, JoAnne Carter and Tammy Napier, were elected State Representatives and Regional Secretary, respectively.

May 29-31, the F.H.A. also attended the Leadership Conference. Miss Patty Doherty and Mrs. Helen Carter were sponsors.

Pep Club Sponsors Homecoming Dance

Pep Club's goal was to support all KHS athletic teams. Members attended many out-of-town games and were responsible for attending all home football and basketball games. To boost teams spirit, Pep Club was divided into committees. Each committee was responsible for planning something for each football and basketball game, such as performing skits at pep assemblies or posting signs in the halls.

The Homecoming dance highlighted Pep Club's activities. All arrangements including selecting the band, decorating the gym, and providing the refreshments were carried out by members.

Pep Club members combine business with pleasure as they make spirit signs.

Memorial Day: More Than a Three-Day Weekend

JOE CROSSON

By ELAINE GARRISON
Daily Democrat Staff Writer

When the calendar in Joe Crosson's office tells him Memorial Day will soon be here, he doesn't always think of going on a short vacation or how late he may get to sleep Monday morning.

Instead, Crosson thinks of a half brother they called "Sonny," the steaming jungles of southern Vietnam and the Tet offensive early in 1968.

Sonny, who was in the Army, didn't live through the Tet offensive.

"He was up there in Quang Tri Province, near the DMZ," and a few months later Crosson was working with a Navy aircraft maintenance crew in the Mekong Delta.

"From everything I read about it, things got pretty hot and heavy up there. Sonny never came back . . . We were about as far south as you can get and still be in Vietnam, that is, and not be in the South China Sea," he explained.

Crosson, a jovial man with salt-and-pepper hair, became a 22-year career man. Now, after his last stint in the Navy, he works with other veterans and widows of service men as the service officer in the Veterans' Affairs Office located in the Dunklin County Courthouse.

Veterans' Affairs — not to be confused with the Veterans' Administration — helps guide veterans through the government's red tape.

"We help people make claims, and fill out forms. Vietnam veterans mostly want to know about educational benefits. World War II veterans ask about pension claims," he said. Crosson estimates the office serves about 100 people a week.

He also visits Caruthersville, Portageville and New Madrid several times a month.

"Most Americans, the average person, if they stop and think, realize what Memorial Day really means. But a lot of people, they're so busy, they just don't stop and think about it," Crosson said.

How you remember Memorial Day depends on what war you think of, he explained.

"Vietnam was an unpopular war. People tend to forget it, pretend it didn't happen," Crosson remarked. He agreed that Vietnam veterans do not seem as outspoken about their participation as other war veterans are.

"I don't think they're ashamed of the part that they played in the war, and I'm certainly not. I thought we were right to be in there, and I still think we were right. I certainly don't agree with the way the war ended. . .They should leave the war to the military, the civilians made too many decisions," Crosson said.

Yet he seems unable, like many people, to pinpoint exactly what made the Vietnam conflict "different."

"In World War II and the Korean War, when you left, maybe you were two or three weeks getting to the combat zone. There were people there, relatives to see you off. But this time, you stepped on a plane and 12 hours later you got off and you were in Vietnam.

"When you came back it was the same way. You walked off an airplane and here you are. So what? You'd been over there — big deal. People here could care less, except maybe your family," he said.

Crosson yearns for a healthy revival of patriotism on Veteran's Day.

"Yea. I'd like to see a few marching bands. High school bands and Boy Scouts and the VFW. I'd like to see uniforms and flags waving, that kind of thing."

But, patriotism isn't as fashionable as it once was, and Crosson thinks he has found the reason why.

"I don't think I'm in the minority. It's just that nobody takes the time or gets behind that kind of thing anymore. It's like the ads the Navy has, 'It's not a job, it's an adventure' and the Army says 'Join the people who join the Army'. . . Nobody thinks about doing it to help their country," he added.

Crosson also thinks of someone else on Memorial Day.

A friend he had tried to talk into going into the Navy with him joined the Marine Corps only a few months later. The friend, like Crosson, found a career in the armed services.

"He'd been retired about three months when he was killed in a truck wreck. He had decided he wanted to haul mobile homes. He was in Korea when he was in the service and after all that time in the military . . . I guess you just never know."

Cardwell Murder Suspect Is Sought

By DAILY DEMOCRAT
Staff Newsman

A Cardwell-area man has been charged with capital murder in connection with the apparent fatal shooting of another Cardwell man yesterday.

A spokesman for the Dunklin County Sheriff's Department identified the dead man as Joe Hunter, 73, a retired Cardwell man.

Charged with capital murder in the case is 35-year-old John Wesley Chamberlain, who was still at large at press time today. Authorities said sheriff's department officers, Missouri Highway Patrol members and local officers in the area are conducting a massive search for the suspect today.

Deputy-Dispatcher Bud Brooks of the Dunklin County Sheriff's Department said he received a call at 12:11 p.m. yesterday from Chubby Canady, a road grader operator for Salem Township, advising him that Canady had come upon the scene of what appeared to be foul play in a rural township road.

Investigating officers first on the scene in the area, located near the Silverdale community in the southernmost part of the county, found a baseball cap, shoes, broken glass, and two .22-caliber bullets in the roadway, one apparently covered with blood.

Brooks said the discovery prompted the officers to call for assistance in the investigation.

Shortly after 2 p.m., authorities located an abandoned 1964 Ford station wagon, which was traced to the victim. Authorities said the car was located about 1.5 miles south of Arbyrd, about 1.25 miles southwest of the first scene. Officers said the right front window was broken, there was a bullet hole in the door and blood inside the vehicle.

At 5 p.m., Hunter's body was found along Buffalo Ditch about 200 feet south of the Arkansas state line. The body was turned over to Mississippi County, Ark., authorities, who are planning to conduct an autopsy, Brooks said.

Authorities said that robbery was apparently not a motive in the killing, since Hunter's wallet was found in a pocket of his bib overalls, apparently undisturbed. Also, authorities reported, the victim's family told them Hunter was not in the habit of carrying large sums of money.

Hunter and Chamberlain, who were neighbors, were seen together earlier at the Starlite Club near Senath, authorities said.

Marijuana Ship Seized

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico—A ship carrying more than $15 million worth of marijuana has been captured 200 miles northwest of Puerto Rico, apparently headed from South America to an American East Coast Port, the U.S. Coast Guard said.

The 125-foot Belmont, a former Coast Guard cutter, was carrying 420 bales of marijuana, authorities said.

Shortage Real, Courts Told

COLUMBIA, Mo.—Retired Army Gen. Fred W. Vetter, of the U.S. Department of Transportation, told the annual Missouri Courts Conference Thursday that the gasoline shortage in the United States is real.

Vetter said Americans must realize there is an energy shortage, and that the 55-mile-per-hour speed limit is one of the solutions to the problem.

Commencement Exercises Give All a 'Night to Remember'

By DAILY DEMOCRAT
Staff Newsman

Unseasonably cool weather and nearly 1,500 parents, relatives, friends and neighbors greeted the 1979 Kennett High School graduating class as this year's crop of matriculating seniors attended the KHS commencement program Thursday evening at the high school stadium.

It was a night to remember. For the graduating seniors, who were ending one way of life and beginning another, it was the night that once seemed unattainable. For the proud parents, brothers and sisters, it was the night their graduate was a star without equal. For the assembled friends, teachers and guests, it was the night that held the promise of the future.

The 154 graduates entered the stadium to the stirring triumphal march from "Aida," bowed their heads for the benediction by Rev. Stuart Squires and listened attentively as Dr. John McMullan, superintendent of school, introduced the four representatives they had chosen to convey their thoughts to their guests — Keith Bartmess, Leslie Cohen, Brent Haraway and David Wheeler.

High School Principal William H. McKeel presented the graduating class, and school board president J.D. Faulkner presented the graduating seniors with their diplomas.

The awards to the best all-around student, the salutatorian and the valedictorian, presented by Gerald Granger, went to Fran Dalton, Debbie Green and Brent Haraway, respectively.

David Wheeler claimed the Bertha Kohn Memorial Award, presented by Dr. McMullan, while Paula Minton won the Cotton Exchange Bank award and the accompanying $1,500 scholarship.

Danny Landrum was selected to receive The Daily Dunklin Democrat's journalism award, with the Independent Agents of Kennett Scholarship for $250 dollars going to Richard Francis; the Jim Robins-Wim Cohen Memorial Scholarship was presented to Dennis Hamlett and the John M. Dalton Educational Fund Scholarship for $750 went to Lee Ann Woodard.

Beth Gargas received a scholarship from the Kennett Business and Professional Women's Club; Brenda Mungle was given one of two $500 scholarships from the Kennett Community Teachers' Association, with JoNel Newman receiving the second scholarship.

Earl Dean White was named the recipient of a $1,000 scholarship from the Kennett Jaycees; Debbie Green received a $1,000 award from the Kennett Kiwanis Club, named the Dr. George Q. Dunmire Education Scholarship; and the Dr. Paul Baldwin Education Scholarship from the Kennett Lion's Club for $1,500 went to Brent Haraway. The $1,000 Kennett Rotary Club scholarship went to Debbie Carter.

A $700 scholarship from the National Honor Society was received by Pam Simpson, an award from the Wednesday Music Club went to Denise Hyde and the $1,000 Wim Cohen-B'nai B'rith Memorial Scholarship was presented to Tamra West.

Several additional scholarships and awards were presented at an assembly this morning at the high school.

No Publication Monday

The Daily Dunklin Democrat will not publish an edition on Monday, May 28, in observance of the Memorial Day holiday.

All banks, savings institutions and local, state and federal offices will be closed on Monday, along with most local businesses and retail stores.

Publication will resume on Tuesday, May 29.

College High on Graduates' List

By DANNY LANDRUM
Daily Democrat Youth Editor

The time has come once again for the graduating class of Kennett High School to part company with school day friends and embark on careers of their own.

As was stated by many graduating seniors last night at commencement exercises, it is hard to grasp the fact that they will not see most of the students that they grew up with again, unless perhaps they were planning to attend the same college.

Many graduates are planning to attend some of the area's state universities. Students planning to attend Arkansas State University are Paula Minton, Julie Nichols, Kenny Ford, Becky Byrd, Kim Waddell and David Love. Attending Southwest Missouri State [illegible] will be Tamara West, their interest in the sport. For instance, Jackie Taylor and possibly David Wheeler think they might attend school at Mississippi County Community College, in Blytheville, Ark., and play a little basketball there.

University will be Cindy Seaber, Jim Alexander, Robb Robinson, Jim Reed, Pam Simpson, Paula Simpson, Leann Shortnacy, Rhonda Wallen, David Lynn, Brenda Buys, Luetta Pulliam, Steve Seward, Cindy Parmenter, Keith Rickman and Russ Huffstutler.

Two students, Sherri Cossey and Claude Swain, have indicated an interest in pursuing a career in the Navy. David E. Wheeler and LuAnne Duckworth are planning to attend the University of Southern Mississippi at Hattisburg.

We have crossed the bridge of high school and new horizons, new adventures, and new goals await us around the corner as our old goals, cherished times, and past adventures linger in our memory. This yearbook has hopefully captured some of those unforgettable times to hold forever.

To the students of Kennett High School I say, "Strive forward and keep reaching for all you can get out of life, keep loving everyone and everything, and most of all hold your head high for you are the only you in this world.

To the 1978-79 INDIAN staff I say "Thank-you" for all your dedicated and hard work, and for your original ideas which were needed to keep this book alive. But most of all I thank you for your patience in dealing with me and your willingness to accept my help and ideas.

Mrs. Wall, I thank you for giving me the honor of serving as co-editor and for all your invaluable advice. I hope I have upheld the faith you had in my work and although sometimes my ideas were not exactly traditional, I thank you for letting me express them in this book.

Most of all I thank God for his blessings upon my life, for my friends, and for my family without whom I could not survive.

So K.H.S. I leave you the 1978-79 INDIAN yearbook, and to all you upcoming K.H.S.er's I say "Hold your head high and live each moment to its fullest because the years are fleeting."

This is not an exclusively senior book nor should it be. However, on this last page of the "class of '79's" last K.H.S. yearbook perhaps it is fitting to pay seniors some recognition.

KEITH BARTMESS

As a unified body the class of '79 is no more. Each of us leaves K.H.S. to pursue his own individual goal. It is the purpose of this annual to capture in words and photographs, memories of all-too-fleeting moments and emotions and hold them forever between the pages of this book. I sincerely hope we have done this successfully.

A great number of people contributed to the recording of 1978-79 memories. Photographers Joe Craig and Bob Redman, numerous sponsors, staff members, and most of all Mrs. Helen Wall without whom the completion of this book would have been impossible. I thank all of you.

Jo Nel Newman

To our photographers, Bob Redman and Joe Craig, I express my appreciation for your hard work and patience in dealing with the staff and helping us reach our goal.
